Socialism Near, Chest Workers Told

Says Army 'Cripples' Marines

General Cates Joins Feud

Gen. Clifton B. Cates, head of the Marine Corps, accused the Army high command today of trying to wipe out the "combat power of the Marine Corps."

Cates told the House Armed Services committee that the combat morale of his fighting force still is high.

But substantial harm has been done to the national dehandicaps" inflicted on the fense, he said, by "crippling Marine Corps through Pentagon policies.

Severe and telling blows are being struck into the "bone and muscle" of the Marines, Cates said. Reductions, he said, are "striking into the heart of our combat forces."

Cates was a witness at the House group's hearings on the rows within the armed services The Navy is battling agains policies which. it contends builds up the Air Corps at the expense of the Navy.

The admirals argue that in high defense councils the Army and the Air Force have joined up to out-vote the Navy 2-1.

Cates and Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, a former commandant of Marines, were called as the last witnesses for the Navy. Next the committee will hear the other side of the dispute from Air Force and Army men.

Shot As He Telephones

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A verdict of murder and suicide was written today across the deaths of a self-styled Columbus preacher and the man who accused him of stealing his wife and teen-age children.

Dead were Bruce Rose, 41, father of three children, and Frank Carson, 63, who was a great-grandfather.

Rose shot and killed Carson yesterday while Carson talked over the telephones to Rose's estranged wife, Maida. Rose then reloaded his single-barreled shotgun and turned it on himself. Before he died, he told Deputy Sheriff Willard G. Kredel he shot Carson "because he stole my wife and children."

Rose shot Carson through a window of Carson's basement apartment just west of the Columbus city limits. Rose's wife called the sheriff's office to report the shooting. She said she had been talking to Carson when, without previous warning, he gasped:

"Oh, my God, Maida!"

Mrs. Rose said she heard a loud noise—and the telephone went dead.

Air Cooled By Light Rain

Although the weatherman promised at least two more days of pleasant fall weather with little possibility of rain in this section of the state, a light rain fell in Mansfield shortly before noon today.

The rain cooled the air slightly. Today's low was 52 at 6:30 a. m.

Yesterday Mansfielders were asking each other how much longer this could last, as they enjoyed another perfect fall Sunday. A bright sun raised the temperature to a high of 69 at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The forecast for today is partly cloudy in the north and east portions, and mostly cloudy with some light rain likely in the southwest portion. Highest temperatures will be in the low or middle 70's. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and mild.

Storm Weakening

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The weather bureau said today that the Atlantic hurricane appears to be weakening but is still a dangerous storm. It said the hurricane was centered about 300 miles north northeast of Bermuda at 5 a. m. and was moving east northeast about 22 miles an hour.

Annual Drive Started

Cautioning his audience that "it's later than you think in our country's trend toward a socialistic government," Elmer L. Lindseth of Cleveland addressed nearly 250 volunteer workers in the 1949 Community Chest drive at the annual kick-off breakfast this morning at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

He told the group that business leaders are gravely concerned over the current trend toward socialism. "We have viewed the English situation with concern and alarm, yet the United States is not far behind," he said.

Lindseth cited the situation which now exists in the Pacific coast cities, particularly in California, where the state's pension rolls have increased from 198,000 to 245,000 in the past year.

"The very nature of American life is being threatened by the situation in which a hand goes into your pocket, but it's not your hand," he said. Churches, professional societies, women's organizations, business, labor and farm organizations are all being affected by the present trend," Lindseth warned.

PRAISES PLAN

The speaker praised the federated and co-ordinated drive plan of the Mansfield Community Chest, stating that in individual campaigns for funds with which to operate the various youth-building and public service agencies, the cost of solicitation for each one dollar donation is 35 cents, while in a federated campaign, the cost per dollar donation is only 2.8 cents, a greater amount of funds with which to carry on the various agencies' work.

The volunteer workers were urged by the speaker to "Sell the Chest," and suggested they adopt the A. I. D. A. plan of salesmanship, which he explained meant a four-fold slogan: Attention, interest, desire and action, on the part of solicitors in making personal contacts with prospective donors.

Lindseth, who is president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, and an active worker in Cleveland Community Chest activities, was introduced by W. E. Slabaugh jr., president of the Mansfield chest.

This morning's meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. Matthew Madden, pastor of First Congregational church.

Other features of the program were talks by James R. McCon-

Halt Greek Civil War

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — The Greek rebel radio last night announced that communist-lead guerrillas had ceased military operations temporarily in the Greek civil war.

The announcement by the rebel "government" apparently was carefully timed with respect to U. N. negotiations. Russia is scheduled to reply today to peace feelers put out by a special U. N. committee headed by assembly President Carlos P. Romulo.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — (UP) — The United Nations general assembly enters the most critical week of its fourth session today, with Russia's offer of an atomic accounting and Yugoslavia's campaign against the Kremlin for a security council seat slated for settlement.

Second in interest and importance only to these crucial issues were the Greek conciliation efforts to top UN officials.

Well-placed informants said Russia's Jacob A. Malik had not renewed the long-standing Soviet demands for a general amnesty for the guerrillas and for new Greek elections supervised by the Un. Romulo's program, they said, also omitted these issues.

MAYOR HAS GRANDSON

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Mayor Thomas A. Burke bragged today about his first grandson, Stanley L. Orr III. The boy was born yesterday at St. Ann's maternity hospital to Burke's elder daughter, Mrs. Stanley L. Orr, jr., 24.

Canton In Red Hands

Communists Extend Hold

CHUNGKING — (AP) — Canton slipped quietly into the widening orbit of Red China today, and Nationalists asked "here next?"

Some quarters predicted twin communist drives to knock out the government once and for all—one against Chungking, the new nationalist capital; the other against Kunming nearly 400 miles southwest.

The reds already threatened several minor nationalist positions along the east coast. Official reports said the communists in a big amphibious operation established a beachhead on the northern corner of Amoy island, about 300 miles northest of Canton. About 1,200 others landed at Kulangsu, between Amoy and the mainland.

(The British steamer Anhui, carrying 1,400 passengers, was caught in the crossfire of an Amoy artillery duel yesterday. It returned to Hong Kong with three Chinese dead and 24 wounded).

Three U. S representatives arrived here today—first foreign diplomats to reach Chungking since its reestablishment Saturday as the capital. A chartered plane brought U. S. Charge D'Affaires Robert Strong; second secretary Robert Rinden and supervisor of communications Lawrence Norton. Attaches of other countries are expected to follow.

East German Pact Looming

BERLIN — (UP) —A reliable German source said today that Russia had promised to conclude a separate peace treaty with the new East German state within three months and that the Germans already were working on a draft of the treaty.

The source said that restoration of diplomatic relations between Russia and East Germany, announced yesterday, had opened the way for conclusion of the treaty.

Political observers said it also foreshadowed the following swift recognition of the new Soviet satellite by other east European nations.

Flames Level 6-Room House

Burns Fatal To 2 In Holmes County

MILLERSBURG — Burns claimed the lives of two Holmes county residents yesterday.

Ralph Robert Sheely, 23, of Welcome, O., was burned fatally when flames swept his six-room frame structure home and William E. Kuntz, 21, of Killbuck, R. D. 1, lineman for the Holmes Rural Electric Co-Operative, Inc., succumbed to burns suffered while at work Saturday morning at Trail, O.

Mrs. Jean Sheely, 21, widow of the Welcome fire victim, is in Pomerene hospital here with critical burns suffered in the blaze at their home. Mr. Sheely, an ex-GI, was treated at Pomerene hospital before being removed last night to Veterans' hospital at Parma, where he succumbed.

Gordon Barton, chief of the Millersburg fire department, estimated damage to the Sheely house at $1,500. He said firemen saved all but three rooms of the structure. The fire started at noon Sunday when the Sheelys attempted to light a fire and a five gallon can of kerosene ignited and exploded, he said.

The living room, kitchen and small room adjoining the living room were gutted by flames. The two young Sheely children, Ralph jr. and Curtiss, were at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Sheely, on the Glenmont-Nashville road at time of the tragedy.

Mr. Sheely also is survived by three brothers, Richard and James, both of Big Prairie, R. D. 1, and Gerald, of Killbuck. Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Killbuck Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Russell Lee, officiating. Burial will be in Killbuck cemetery in charge of the Hunter funeral home. Friends may call at the Wade Jones residence in Killbuck.

Mr. Kuntz died at 10:15 a. m. Sunday in Pomerene hospital from burns suffered at 10 a. m. Saturday while working as a lineman at Trail, O.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Kuntz leaves his widow, Rosetta; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kuntz, of Killbuck, R. D. 1; a brother, Edward R., of Killbuck, R. D. 1, and a sister, Miss Shirley Ann Kuntz, of Killbuck, R. D. 1.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Killbuck Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Russell Lee, officiating. Burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

Falling Marker Kills Child

Wooster Girl Dies At Play

A 200-pound tombstone fell on and injured fatally a 22-month-old Wooster infant yesterday at Christie Chapel cemetery five miles southwest of Millersburg.

The child, Holly Jo Poulson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Poulson, was playing with her young uncle in the cemetery when the gravestone toppled over and fractured her skull. She died two hours later at Pomerene hospital in Millersburg.

Poulson, a Wooster city fireman, and his family were picnicking nearby when the accident occurred.

They had just placed their tablecloth on the ground to prepare for the picnic when the tombstone fell over. The girl was the Poulson's only child.

Services have been set for 2 p. m. tomorrow at the McIntire funeral home in Wooster. Rev. Clarence Kerr will officiate. Visitation will be this evening at the funeral home and burial will be in Wooster cemetery.

16,000 Out At ALCOA

Sawyer Sees 5 Million Idle

PITTSBURGH — (ANS) — The strike of 16,000 CIO-United Steelworkers in nine plants of the Aluminum Company of America began in an orderly fashion today.

ALCOA officials said 16 other plants will not be affected by the walkout, since plenty of metal is available for fabricating operations.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — If the steel strike runs to Dec. 1 it will idle 5,000,000 workers and seriously damage the nation's economy, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said last night.

"Furthermore, it is estimated that by January 1 there will, in effect, be a complete shutdown in the metal-consuming industries," he added.

Meanwhile, most labor leaders today expected William Green to reply with a polite "No, thank you," to John L. Lewis' proposal that AFL unions help finance the CIO steel strike.

The proposal was made by Lewis in a letter to Green. CIO President Philip Murray, running the steelworkers' strike stepped up Saturday with quick endorsement of the idea that unions "pool their resources for the common defense and general welfare of the labor movement."

Go To Jail For Contempt of Court

WARREN, O. — (AP) — Three strikers against the Taylor-Winfield corporation plant have been sentenced to Trumbull county jail for contempt of court.

The three CIO United Electrical Workers, accused of throwing rocks at a plant official's car and beating a truck driver, are: Frank Motter, 45, president of UE Local 750; eight days, $200 fine and costs; Joseph Seman, 31, three days, $50 fine and costs; David J. Walker, 38, four days, $100 fine and costs.

Safecrackers Get Surprise On the 'Job'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Two armed safecrackers had the surprise of their lives early today. They had already knocked the dial and hinges of a safe in the Colonial Fuel company. Three charges of dynamite were placed and they were ready to set it off.

But at the crucial moment ten policemen from Columbus and suburban Arlington and Grandview walked in. Not a shot was fired and the men were disarmed.

Police identified the cracksmen as William Phillips, 50, of Columbus and Minor M. Sarber, 31, of Dayton. They were being held at city prison. Two cruisermen making their nightly rounds saw the gate open and sounded the alarm.

Union Acts To Oust 9 Members

Names Five-Man Trial Board

A five-man trial board was elected yesterday by members of Local 711, United Electrical Workers, in a move to oust nine members.

Most of the 260 members who attended yesterday's meeting at John Simpson High school, approved the executive committee's proposal to try the nine men for violation of Article 29 of the International constitution.

The men have refused to follow the local union's program "and have been upholding and furthering the communistic stand taken by national UEW officers," Joseph Hawkins, president of the local, said.

Charged were: W. F. McCartney, Claude Bradley, Philip Schwaner, Stewart Roberts, Cecil A. Friend, M. M. Truax, Fred Wiedle, Fred Simon and James Anderson.

Five of the nine are former officers of the group. Roberts is former president; Anderson, former vice-president; Bradley, former secretary board member at large; Schwaner, former chief steward, and McCartney, former recording secretary.

PLANS APPEAL

"We will appeal any action of the local to the district as a body," Philip Schwaner declared.

Seven of the nine men on Oct 1 filed charges of "encouraging and promoting secession of the local from UE," against the local's president.

The union's executive committee has appointed a sub-committee to study the charges against Hawkins, Russell Yarman, chairman of the committee, said.

If we are convicted, we will not be permitted to participate in the trial against you," Schwaner told Hawkins. "We will appeal any action of the local to the district," he added.

The members proceeded to elect the five man trial board, but no date was set for the hearing.

Stork Wins Race With Big Transport

SHANNON AIRPORT, Ireland —(AP)—The stork raced our American Overseas airlines pilot over the Atlantic ocean today—and the stork won.

A baby boy was born to Mrs. Darkina Parker of New York City, while the Constellation droned at full throttle 400 miles from Shannon. Both the mother and child were reported well. The baby's weight was given as four pounds.

When the crowded transport made its regular stop here the mother and child were taken by ambulance to nearby Ennis hospital.

The plane was enroute from New York to Frankfurt, Germany, by way of Ireland.

The 20-year-old mother, a GI bride from Bavaria, was quoted as saying: "I hadn't expected the baby for another month and a half." Her husband, still in the U. S. army, is stationed at Weisbaden, Germany.

When it became apparent that the stork was winning the race, Mrs. Parker was taken into the crew compartment of the plane. A fellow passenger, Dr. Fred Henschel of New York City, attended her. The doctor was assisted by stewardess Mary Jane Hinckley, 28, of Millville, N. J., a registered nurse.

Finds Pair While On Tour

Men Linked To Robbery

A Mansfield reformatory official on vacation in Virginia over the week end captured two OSR escapers who are believed to have robbed a farm family near Shiloh last Sunday night.

The men were back in their cells today. They will be questioned by Prosecutor Harold Lutz.

The fugitives, Frederick L. Shaver, 23, and Julius Faulkenberg, 27, were recognized by R. C. Ohl, superintendent of the OSR cannery, as they walked along the highway near Winchester, Va., Saturday. Ohl, who, with his wife, was taking a week-end trip into the mountains, stopped his car and ordered the pair into a filling station along the route where they were held for police.

Acting Superintendent George J. Allarding, who reported the story of the capture to the News-Journal today, said Shaver and Faulkenberg had both worked under Ohl at the cannery from which they escaped Oct. 7.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Lutz said three separate charges would be filed against the pair this afternoon if investigation proves Faulkenberg and Shaver were involved in the farm house breaking and entering. Earlier descriptions of the pair tallied with the description at the OSR.

READIES CHARGES

Charges to be filed are: breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season; robbery, and operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. The first charge carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and five to 30 years if mercy is recommended.

The fugitives allegedly forced their way into the J. E. Hollenbaugh home near Ganges where they tied Hollenbaugh, 75, his wife, 71, and daughter, Mary, 48, to chairs; robbed the inhabitants of $14 in cash, took two pair of overalls and other clothing and fled in the 1937 two-door sedan owned by the daughter.

No trace of the stolen car has been found, reformatory officials said.

Warning future escapers of the OSR against such violence, Lutz said these "reformatory inmates are going to learn that when they commit crimes in Richland county they are going to have to pay for them. They will get not only punishment for escaping, but will be punished by the state for the crimes they commit. This case will be taken to the grand jury."

Meanwhile, an escaper and a parole violator from Mansfield

Teacher 43 Years Dies

Miss Mae B. Wilkinson, 77, a teacher in Mansfield's public schools for 43 years, died at General hospital at 8:30 p. m. today following a brief illness.

Miss Wilkinson had been admitted to the hospital on Saturday.

Born at the family home, 219 West Fifth street, on March 19, 1872, Miss Wilkinson had lived there all her life. She was a first grade teacher at West Fifth street school for the entire time of her teaching experience here, retiring about 15 years ago.

Miss Wilkinson was known to nature-lovers here for her interest in birds and other wildlife. She was a charter member of the Mansfield Nature club and had retained her membership until just a few years ago.

She was also a member of the Poetry Guild and an active member of the Central Methodist church.

Miss Wilkinson is survived by one sister, Mrs. G. W. Bahl sr.; one niece and five nephews.

Funeral services will be held at the Geiger funeral home at 3 p. m. Wednesday in charge of Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church. Friends may call at the funeral home after 6 p. m. today.

500 See Congregational Church Cornerstone Laid

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Even the heavens seemed to add their benediction yesterday afternoon as nearly 500 members and friends of the First Congregational church attended a cornerstone-laying ceremony at the church building site, Marion avenue and Millsboro road.

Yesterday's clear skies and warm autumn sun were in sharp contrast to the snow and rain which greeted church members when they gathered at the same site for groundbreaking ceremonies last April.

The afternoon rites began at 3:30 p. m. with a proud and happy congregation singing "How Firm a Foundation." The hymn was followed by the invocation given by Rev. John Melchert, pastor of St. John's church.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden gave the Scripture reading and a prayer of consecration and then began the litany for the laying of the cornerstone.

After each of Rev. Madden's statements the congregation responded, "We lay this cornerstone."

At the conclusion of the litany a hush fell over the crowd as a workman stepped forward and handed an envelope to Rev. Madden.

The pastor explained the envelope contained a photograph of the crowd taken at the beginning of the ceremony with one of the new cameras which develops prints in two minutes. He then placed the envelope in a metal box which was placed in the gleaming white cornerstone.

Two workmen stepped forward, prepared the cornerstone, and slid it into place in the corner of the new sanctuary unit.

Then Rev. Madden took a silver trowel and tapped the cornerstone three times saying, "We lay this cornerstone, in the name of the Father, in the name of the Son, in the name of the Holy Spirit, Amen."

The closing prayer was given by Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, who led

Writer Claims Role of Godfather More Exacting Than Real Thing

NEW YORK—Being a godfather is harder—in some ways—than being a father.

Fatherhood just comes naturally. It is all unofficial. You wait in a hospital anteroom until a nurse steps out and murmurs in an antiseptic voice, "Well, you're a father now."

Simple!

But godfatherhood is another matter entirely. It is official. And it takes place in a church, where the Lord can overhear any pledges you make to fend for a child that isn't your own. Yes, being a godfather is a much more responsible and selective act than merely being a father.

Fathers just happen. Godfathers create themselves deliberately.

If all this sounds a bit smug, it is because I am pitching a penny for the proud but neglected status of godfatherhood, into which I entered recently.

Some two years ago Frances and I moved into a tremendous housing project on the east side of Manhattan holding some 35,000 people. The life insurance company that built it ruled out dogs but announced it welcomed children.

The idea probably was that dogs rarely grow up and buy life insurance policies but children sometimes do. Anyway the tenants joyously took the company at its word. Within a year the place was nicknamed "The Hatchery," and a man going to work had to beat his way past a solid wall of diaper service salesmen. Now there are more babies around than television sets.

A young neighbor couple had a daughter, Nina. We fell in love with her and they said we could be her godparents. Months went by and nothing happened.

"People are always saying we can be godparent to their kids," I complained to Frances. "But nothing ever comes of it. What am I supposed to do—nothing? I feel as useless as a Kentucky colonel in Vermont."

Well, word got back to Nina's mother. The next Sunday she frocked the child in something pink, and off we went to the church. It was a christening ceremony.

And it was then at least I was sworn in as a real 24-karat godfather. It is an odd feeling. For the first time I understood why women weep at a wedding.

I felt that way as Nina, laughing, kept jumping up and down while the immortal words were read over her heedless head. But she quieted down and listened gravely as the minister lifted her, doused her blonde locks with water—and welcomed her to Jesus.

Afterward the minister assured me that a godfather held no honorary title, but had real duties and shouldn't enter into his condition lightly or thoughtlessly—as fathers have been known to do.

A week or two later he dropped by to see how I was fulfilling my role. Luckily, he caught me at home reading a good book. I told him that now we called Nina the "Little Christian," and he looked pleased.

Now I fret about my goddaughter all the time. They say there is nothing like children to keep you young. I find there is nothing like a godchild to make a man older—from worrying at all life's perils around her.

Strikes Cost 200 Willard Railmen Jobs

Skeleton Crews Performing Work

WILLARD—The steel and coal strikes are seriously affecting local railroad employment. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad, one of the main coal carriers tapping steel manufacturing centers, is moving only pre-strike mined coal.

Terminal officials here estimate that more than 200 local railroad employes now are on unemployment compensation. Clerical and shop forces were reduced to a minimum last month and the extra board for road men is being cut as the strikes continue.

Only skeleton crews are on duty in the roundhouse and shops at night as several main through freights have been taken off and others being consolidated. Further, the chief clerk and secretary are trying to do the clerical work in the office of the terminal trainmaster where, before the furlough, they had the assistance of five clerks.

The pile of storage coal in the yards is dwindling, with about 200 cars being loaded daily to supply the needs of the central region. The Baltimore and Ohio has brought in three diesel switch engines from the Youngstown district to work here temporarily as replacements for steam engines.

In Bucyrus 100 New York Central railroad employes have been furloughed as a result of the strikes, it was announced by W. N. Clark, NYC trainmaster there. A. I. Cullen, Pennsylvania railroad general agent at Crestline, reported track maintenance crews, working out of Bucyrus, have been cut, but the size of the cut was not announced.

Death Takes J. VanOsdel

Joe A. Van Osdel, 68, died Sunday morning at his home on the Wooster road, following a six-week illness.

Mr. Van Osdel was born April 7, 1881, at Millersburg, but spent the greater part of his life in this vicinity. He was at one time a farmer and had worked at the Tappan Stove company. He owned and operated the Devil's Punch Bowl, Wooster road, for 20 years, retiring two years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Glen Remington Van Osdel; two daughters, Mrs. John Orock and Mrs. James Leighty, both of Mansfield; a son, Ralph O. Van Osdel of Shelby, R. D. 1 and five grandchildren.

Friends may call at the residence until Tuesday morning when the body will be removed to the Wappner funeral home for services at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. Rev. R. P. Smith, pastor of the Ridgeway First Church of God, will officiate. Burial will be in the Pleasant Valley cemetery in Monroe township.

Looting of two homes and a car of personal belongings was reported to sheriff's deputies and to police during the week end.

Mrs. Tony Stancato, 180½ North Main street, reported a table model radio was stolen from her home by someone who tore the screen from the east window at her home.

Theft of clothing from the farm home of Carleton Wolf, east of Lucas, was reported to sheriff's deputies. Wolf said he believed the house was entered Friday.

Steve Shinsky, 74 North Weldon avenue, reported to police a .32 calibre German pistol in a tan leather holster were taken from his car while it was parked in front of his home.

John Spears, 328 East Second street, told police his red and white bicycle, valued at $25, was stolen from in front of the Ritz theater yesterday afternoon.

Strains To Adjourn

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Congress strained toward mid-week adjournment today through a series of final obstacles that appeared to be as much political as legislative.

The two toughest hurdles to be passed are major pieces of legislation — the farm and military appropriations bills. But delaying agreement on each, members would admit, was party interest of one form or another.

The farm and the military bills are deadlocked in conference committees.

The jockeying on the farm bill centers on the price support issue which played a big part in giving President Truman his 1948 victory and is regarded as a decisive factor for the 1950 congressional elections.

Club To Hear Institute Head

D Chester Sparks, president of the Oneida Institute, Oneida, Ky., will speak to Kiwanis club members Thursday noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Tolman Burns, vice president and general manager of the Mansfield Typewriter and Office Supply company, is program chairman for the meeting. Burns is a trustee of Oneida college and it is through his influence that Sparks is being brought here.

Four new members will be inducted into the club this week. They include: Charles Hand, Glenn Rohleder, Marshall Tarr, and Jacob Schmidt.

Funeral services for Mrs. Luthera Deems Knapp, 65, who died at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. William Van Scoyoc in Springmill Saturday, will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Finefrock funeral home. Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, will officiate and burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Knapp was the widow of Arthur Knapp and had resided at 254 Rowland avenue.

SPEBQSA Plans Quartet Parade

The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbership Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at North Lake park to put finishing touches on plans for the annual parade of quartets which is six weeks away, President Richard Starrett announced today.

Argue Mayor's Pay Should Be Boosted

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles to inform Mansfielders about the charter proposal which will appear on the November ballot.

BY GAYLORD HAKE

Almost every discussion of the council-manager plan brings the same series of disagreements among those who oppose and those who favor the council-manager system.

The opposition asks: "Why not increase the salary of the mayor to attract men of higher calibre to administer the affairs of the city. We would get a better administration and still retain the advantages of the mayor-council system."

But, proponents of council-manager government replied: "An increase in the mayor's salary would not help, because it would not alter the underlying short-comings of a mayor-council system.

"The administrative head of the city still would be selected in a popularity contest. His appeal to the voter — not his ability to administer a city — would be the deciding factor in his election. And, a city-manager, trained by education and experience, would be a better city administrator than an elected mayor who proved himself capable in some other field of endeavor."

Opponents of the council-manager plan say the system is not "representative." A mayor-council system, they say, is more representative because the people elect the city's top official.

Council-manager backers say it is as representative as a mayor-council government. "The city council is the policy-making body. The council members are the people's representatives. They decide what should be done.

"The city manager is the administrative official. By his training, he is qualified to carry out council's programs efficiently and economically. There is nothing unrepresentative about appointing an administrative head. In representative government administrators should be appointed and policy makers should be elected," council-manager backers declare.

Usually, the next issue to be discussed is council-managers claim of taking politics out of the government.

"That is just so much malarky," opponents of the council manager system say. Government is a political situation. Party politics is too strong to be removed from government. A Republic council would chose a Republican manager and a Democratic council would hire a Democratic manager.

But, council-manager backers again disagree. The city manager is not interested in politics, because there is no "Republican way," or "Democratic Way" to pave a street or carry out the other demands of his office.

The Republican or Democratic parties may win their victories in council, but politics will not be carried into the administrative department of the city if a capable city manager is at the helm.

Mrs. Bertsch Succumbs

Mrs. Frances Bertsch, wife of Samuel Bertsch, of Madison township, died unexpectedly at her home late Saturday night.

Mrs. Bertsch was born in Pocahontas, Va., the daughter of James and Cecelia Frasher Music. She had been a Madison township resident since 1923. She was a member of the First Christian church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two sons, George Bertsch of Akron and Robert Bertsch of Chillicothe; two daughters, Mrs. Alice King of Mansfield and Mrs. John McIntire of Chicago; five grandchildren; one brother, Samuel Music, and a sister, Mrs. Nancy Bowen both of Fort Gay, W. Va.; one step-daughter, Mrs. Clarence McCarthy of Lorain and four step-sons, Wilber Hymes of Massillon, Alvin Hymes of Fresno, Calif., Ray Hymes of Mansfield and Floyd Hymes of Mifflin.

Funeral services will be held at the Jones Memorial at 2 p. m. Tuesday, conducted by Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

WRITES BOOK—

Part of the galley-proofs of Richard Maxwell's new book "Life-Lines," were sent here to Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell for comment. The book, is another in the series which Maxwell, native Mansfielder now in radio work, has written in connection with his program, "Comfort and Cheer." Rev. Mitchell said the script is at the publishers and should be off the presses in time for Christmas trade.

CELEBRATION —

If you noticed an unusually large number of cigar smokers in the county courthouse today there's a reason. Attorney Eugene Busler was busy this morning passing out cigars to county officials. He and Mrs. Busler yesterday became the parents of a son at General hospital.

EXAM TIME —

It's examination time at Senior high school in preparation for distribution of grade cards Wednesday, Oct. 26. Pupils of Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson junior highs also will receive their report cards at that time. It will be the end of the first six-week term. Elementary pupils will not get their grade cards until after nine weeks of study.

Lost Money Returned To Owner

Mrs. Wilson C. Mowry, 136 West Second street, has her $70 back today — thanks to an honest man.

Identifying the roll of bills at the police station yesterday, she told police she didn't realize the money was gone until Saturday night when she went to pay her landlord. Mrs. Mowry's daughter then called her mother's attention to a story in The News-Journal about a stray roll of bills, taken to the police.

The man Mrs. Mowry can thank is Ivan Austin, 91 West Second street, who found the roll of money on the sidewalk in front of 134 West Second street, Saturday morning and turned the roll over to police.

Trouble Seen In Offing

Hits 'Rubber Stamp' Request

The federal government must cut its spending or it is only a question of time until the country is thrown into bankruptcy, Congressman J. Harry McGregor said today. McGregor represents Richland county in Congress.

Pointing to the $256,000,000,000 federal debt, the congressman said the government spent $43,000,000,000 between July 1, 1948, and July 1, 1949, almost exactly the same as was spent during the entire Woodrow Wilson administration, including the cost of World War 1.

Speaker on the floor of the House, the 17th district congressman said:

"The Truman administration expenditures during the past four years aggregate $180,000,000,000 which is approximately the same sum spent for all Presidents of the United States from the inauguration of George Washington up to and including the first 12 years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

"During the first three months of this fiscal year, this administration went further in debt by $1,500,000,000, which unless changed will mean an additional indebtedness of $6,000,000,000 for this fiscal year. If revenues decline, our income will be materially reduced—and the records prove that consumer incomes (total wages and salaries of American workers) decreased $2,900,000,000 in this quarter.

"One would think with this situation prevailing, all departments of the federal government would cooperate in a determined effort to reduce spending to the extent that the budget could be balanced and sizable payments made on the public debt. But such is not the case.

"Proposals fostered and recommended by the President and some members of congress, if adopted, would cost the country hundreds of billions of dollars over a period of years.

"President Truman has said he will defeat congressmen and senators in 1950 who will not agree with his program. In other words, the President wants a congress he can control— 'A Rubber Stamp Congress'. If this is done, there will be a crash some of these days that will make the depression of the 1930's look pale by comparison."

Leg Fracture Aid Delayed

A Mansfield man, who suffered a multiple fracture of the left leg in a fight Saturday evening, was held in city jail nine hours without treatment, although he complained to officers that he was injured.

Joseph Schunatz, 30, of 214 Grace street, was arrested on a charge of intoxication after he was in a fight in front of the Fritz cafe, 194 North Main street. He was arrested at 6:15 p. m. The man, and other prisoners at the jail Saturday night, told police that his leg was broken.

One patrolman reported to the officers in charge of the jail the man's leg was swollen, but he was told: "There is nothing wrong with him. He only wants sympathy."

However, at 3:15 a. m. Sunday, some nine hours later, when a different police shift was on duty, the man's leg was finally examined and he was removed from the jail to General hospital in an ambulance.

Store Gets Set For Sale

Approximately 93 persons associated with Kobacker's department store attended a "kick-off" brunch at the Southern hotel this morning in preparation for the annual "Kobacker Days" sale which opened today.

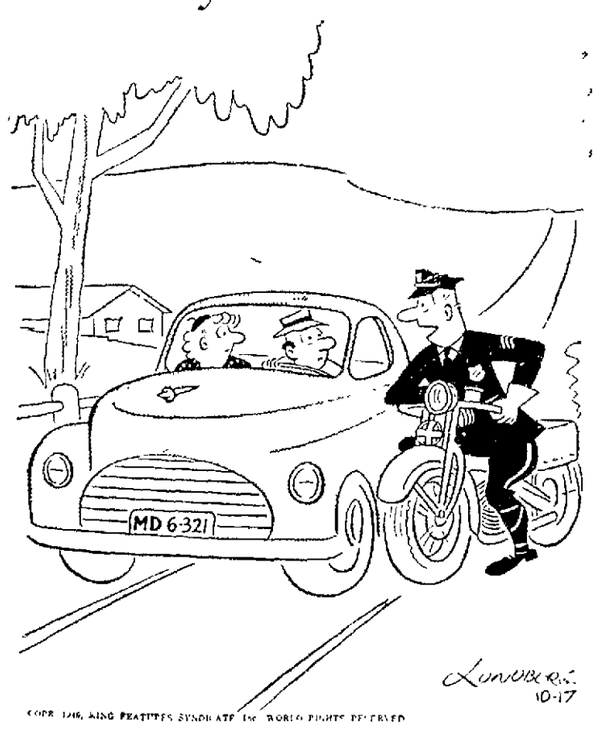

W. L. Faulkner, manager of Kobacker's, was master of ceremonies for the brunch which was held at 10 a. m., prior to the store's opening at noon.

The annual sale, which began today, will continue all this week through Saturday. Regular store hours will be observed during the sale, with the store remaining open until 9 p. m. today.

According to officials of the store, regular merchandise in every department will be sale-priced for the week of bargain days.

The entire store and display windows have been decorated for the sale with banners and signs lettered with Day-Glo luminous paint. Store officials said it was the first time this type of luminous paint has been used in Mansfield.

Red Feather Funds Bring Happiness To Little Girl

By MARGARET MATTOX

Mary was a very pretty 12-year-old girl, with her large blue eyes and wavy blond hair.

That is, she was pretty until she smiled and revealed two front teeth which were turning black from a serious gum infection.

Mary's parents were hard-working people but very poor, and with four brothers and sisters in her family, it was quite evident that money for dental care just wasn't available.

Mary's sixth grade teachers reported that the child was smiling less and less in an effort to hide the unsightly teeth and had developed a self-consciousness regarding the situation which was affecting her studies.

Members of Mansfield's Dental Clinic learned of the case through one of the teachers, and investigated the family's financial background which verified the fact that they were unable to pay for the young girl's dental expenses.

The Dental Clinic made all arrangements for Mary's treatment, and today in place of the discolored teeth she has two replacements as well as numerous fillings, all paid for by the Clinic a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest.

MRS. R. W. STEVENS

Mrs. Robert W. Stevens is president of the Clinic.

Another agency of the Chest which receives little publicity for the fine work it carries on is the Milk Fund, which provided 16,838 free bottles of milk for Mansfield school youngsters last year, as well as the expenditure of $730 for clothing and shoes for unfortunate youngsters through the Student Aid program of the Community Chest.

FROM New York comes one of the best football stories we've heard in some time. . . . Moon Mondschein, the City college coach, now hopes that opponents manage to stay outside his ten-yard line. . . . The reason comes from City college's game with the New Haven Teachers. . . . "We held them on the two-yard line," Moon relates. "We held them on our three-yard line. We held them on our five-yard line, and on our eight-yard line and the 10-yard line. Then we quick-kicked to their 20.

"And then one of their backs went 80 yards for a touchdown!"

Massillon 11 Blasts Akron

The Massillon Progressive Chevrolets continued undefeated in the Ohio Football league by making the Akron Bulldogs their fifth straight victim, 18 to 0.

Akron had been tied with Mansfield for second place prior to the contest in Akron. Massillon cinched a share of the league title by beating the Bulldogs.

A 41-yard pass play from Bert Webb to Al Thomas gave Massillon its first touchdown in the first period. Johnny Tizzino smashed over from the 2 to end a long drive for another first-period score. A 67-yard touchdown sprint by Al Brown produced a six-pointer in the third period.

In the other league game yesterday, the Bucyrus Green Hornets rolled over the Marion Angels, 52 to 6.

Sandusky 11 Defeated By 13-0 Score

Mansfield's pro football Rangers kept in the running for the Ohio Football league championship yesterday by blanking the Sandusky Maroons, 13 to 0, at Stadium field.

The Rangers won their fourth league game in five starts to stay a game behind the Massillon Progressive Chevrolets. Mansfield and Massillon meet next Sunday afternoon at Stadium field with the league championship at stake. The Chevies have won five straight in Ohio loop competition and also boast two wins outside league circles.

A crowd of more than 1,500 watched the Rangers push across a pair of touchdowns in the last half to send Sandusky to its second loss in four games. The Maroons had been pre-game favorite but made only one concerted drive which was stopped by a pass interception.

Passing attacks of both teams left much to be desired, although one of the Mansfield TD's came on a long aerial from Ralph Majors to Eldon Pritchard. Majors, Elroy Jones and Al Schwaner passed for the Rangers and completed only four of 16 for 107 yards.

Majors, whose passing was the bright spot last week in beating the Bucyrus Green Hornets, managed only three of 11. Each of the trio was caught by Pritchard and accounted for 103 yards.

Mansfield battered on the Sandusky door all through the third quarter but a series of breaks was necessary to give the Rangers their first score. The Rangers turned the ball over on the 25, six and 31 yards lines before Dave Worner tried a field goal from the 37. The attempt was far short and Sandusky got possession of the ball on the five. Richard West carried three times to the 24 but Sandusky was penalized back to the nine for holding.

MAJORS SCORES

Bill Roberts fumbled on the next play and the ball kept hopping from one player to another with Majors finally recovering for Mansfield on the three. The former Tyger star went off tackle from the three on the next play and Worner converted.

Sandusky was forced to punt early in the fourth but Rich Kaman got off a poor boot which went out of bounds of the Sandusky 47. Pete Bautz was stopped for no gain and Majors was tossed for a three-yard loss on a sweep. Majors then tossed a bullet pass to Pritchard who took the ball on a dead run on the 2, and sprinted across.

Neither team threatened after that.

The Rangers blew three scoring chances in the first half. They got to the 1,22 and 26 but passes went wilds.

Sandusky drove 48 yards to the Rangers' 14 in the second quarter but Worner intercepted a pass from Bill Roberts on the five and ran out to the 20. Majors then completed a running pass to Pritchard for 44 yards and Mansfield was out of danger.

Coach Jimmy Lymper's Mansfield team had nine first downs to seven for Sandusky and outgained the Maroons in gross yardage, 269 to 148.

Jenkins Named Captain For Game With Massillon

A. C. Jenkins, the big, bruising fullback, will captain the Mansfield Senior high Tygers in their important football clash with Massillon Washington high school Friday night in Massillon.

Starring as a Tyger ball carrier for the third straight season, Jenkins was named to the leader's role today by Coach Augie Morningstar. The 185-pound pile-driver has scored 60 points this season and has averaged better than six yards a carry. He was the Tygers' leading leather lugger last year.

Morningstar announced today that all except one of the Tyger varsity squad would definitely be ready for the game with Washington high. However, the Senior high coach would not reveal the name of the player who may not be able to play.

A light workout was planned for today at the Senior high camp. Review of plays, a long session of timing and some new stuff for the Massillon contest was the order of the day.

The Tyger varsity squad and coaches got into the spirit of "in unity there is strength" yesterday and they all went on a 90-minute hike.

★

Morningstar will give his impressions of the Massillon game at tnoight's Tyger Booster club session at 7:30 at the high school. He will also review last week's victory over Euclid and show movies of the game with Warren Harding.

Buck Gridders All Banged Up For Wisconsin

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio State's football team may be without the services of one and possibly two of its best centers for next Saturday's game at Wisconsin, trainer Ernie Biggs said today.

Both Jack Lininger, mainstay of the Bucks forward wall on offense and defense, and Bob McCullough, his replacement, suffered injuries in yesterday's 27-0 loss to Minnesota.

Lininger sustained a pulled ligament in his ankle and Biggs said he may not be able to go against the Badgers. McCullough suffered a shoulder separation and probably will be out of the lineup at least two weeks.

Injuries to the two forward wall men were not all Coach Wesley Fesler had to worry about. Surveying the havoc wrought by the mighty Gophers, Fesler commented: "It looks like we have gone through a hurricane."

Halfback Pete Perini suffered a pulled leg muscle, left tackle Dick O'Hanlon a thigh injury, tailback Jimmy Clark an ankle injury, and end Jim Hauge severe rib bruises.

'Stop Massillon' Seems To Be Theme Of Ohio High School Grid Coaches

BY BOB CUBBEDGE

COLUMBUS — (INS) — "Stop Massillon" could well be the chant today of Ohio's high school football coaches.

But whatever Ohio team intends to stop the powerful Tigers hasn't yet shown on the Massillon schedule and apparently won't this season.

Sportswriters throughout the state are comparing the 1949 Tigers to the all-conquering teams of the Paul Brown era—they're that good.

The "Massillon for mythical state champion" boom started with the Tigers' opening 40-6 victory over Cleveland Cathedral Latin, always a tough foe.

The boom reached roaring proportions last weekend with Coach Chuck Mather's charges overwhelming 48-14 triumph over Alliance, last team to stop them over a year ago.

The Tigers now have rolled up 250 points against their opponents' 26 in piling up five straight victories.

Whether Massillon can maintain that tremendous pace will determine its claim to the State crown, for coming up is the toughest part of the Stark county school's schedule.

Mansfield's once-beaten Tyers, led by little Tommy Tucker and A. C. Jenkins and anxious for an upset, present the first remaining obstacle this Friday.

After a clash with Warren, Massillon takes on rugged Toledo Waite, then Youngstown South, and finally the Tigers' arch - rivals, Canton McKinley's Bulldogs.

Seven other schools still very much in the running for the State crown see action this Friday. They are Canton McKinley, Toledo Libbey, Hamilton, Lakewood, Middletown, New Philadelphia and Findlay.

Lakewood and Hamilton face the stiffer tests. Lakewood's Rangers must face an undefeated Cleveland Collinwood crew favored to take the Cleveland city championship. Hamilton tackles one-beaten Springfield.

In the five other contests, McKinley meets Steubenville, Toledo Libbey takes on Muskegon, Findlay runs into Marion Harding, Middletown collides with Lima Central and New Philadelphia bumps heads with Toronto.

Other weekend features include the Wooster-Ashland, Toledo Waite-Toledo Devilbiss, Martins Ferry-Bellaire, Fremont Ross - Tiffin, Newark - Lancaster and Alliance-Warren frays.

Gophers Pick To Roll Over Michigan 11

CHICAGO — (UP) — Minnesota's grid Titans bang into Michigan Saturday in the "big one" that means title and terrific, or run of the mill and ruined.

The golden Gophers will be favorites to whip the Wolverines, even at Ann Arbor, and end a chain of Michigan victories in the battle for the little brown jug. And after Saturday's results — Minnesota 27 and Ohio State 0, Northwestern 21 and Michigan 20 — the Gophers have to be the favorites.

But a win over Michigan will be the big one, the one Minnesota has sought since practice began Sept. 1. After the Wolverines, Minnesota plays Purdue, Iowa and Wisconsin in Big Ten clashes and Pittsburgh in a non-conference match.

None of the quartet figured to give the Gophers more than exercise although Wisconsin might be a rough finisher. But Minnesota must beat the Wolverines, and it will be no easy task despite the tarnished shine of Michigan's 25 - game winning streak which ended against Army a week ago and which lost more luster against Northwestern.

Minnesota's win over Ohio State virtually clinched the Rose Bowl bid, as only the Gophers, the Bucks, Michigan and Northwestern were given a chance to finish well up in the Big Ten standings. And Michigan and Northwestern aren't eligible for the bowl. Thus, winner of the Gopher-Buckeye match was a certain entry in the post-season classic.

The Minnesota-Michigan game ranks as the top of the Big Ten slate, headliner of a four-game program. Other conference games are Northwestern at Iowa, Illinois at Purdue and Ohio State at Wisconsin. Indiana entertains Pittsburgh to complete the conference schedule.

Ohio State to Try to Bounce Back Saturday

Tough Wisconsin II Host To Buckeyes

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Can the Bucks bounce back?

That was the big question around Ohio's capital today after the Ohio State grid team surrendered, at least temporarily, its Rose Bowl and Big Ten title hopes Saturday

The Bucks dropped the "big one," 27 to 0, to Minnesota's Golden Gophers before 82,111 fans, third largest home crowd in history.

Next Saturday the Bucks battle Wisconsin at Madison in a game which rates the "toss up tag. The Badgers have the same record as the Bucks—won two, lost one, tied one—but have shown a better scoring punch and a tighter defense. Ohio has counted 94 points and allowed 81, while Wisconsin has scored 122 while allowing 61.

Saturday, while the Bucks were bowing, the Badgers rolled over Navy by 48 to 13.

The Buck-Badger battle headlines a 24-game week-end slate for Ohio squads, and although Coach Wesley Fesler's proteges will be on the road there are plenty of hot tilts on tap for the stay-at-home fans.

Xavier's Musketeers, the state-wide leaders with 151 points and five straight conquests after Sunday's 21-7 victory over John Carroll, meet Louisville in a torrid test Friday night on the Blue Grass field.

The tough mid-American conference pops up with two outstanding games Saturday with western reserve at Cincinnati, for the Redskins' first start in defense of their 1948 crown.

Cincinnati has won its lone league tilt, while Western Reserve and Ohio U., after playing a 7-7 deadlock Saturday, are in position to snatch the pacesetting. Both are unbeaten, and each has won a conference game.

In the Ohio conference the spotlight shines on Wooster's field where the Scots, boasting two loop wins, entertain Muskingum's four-game victors and league leaders. The winner of that one moves out front, for Ohio Wesleyan, only other two-games winner, goes to Greencastle, Ind., for a non-title fray with Depauw.

FIVE UNDEFEATED

Only five of the state's 38 college teams are unbeaten and untied at the halfway mark of the season—Xavier, Muskingum, Wilmington, Baldwin Wallace and Wooster. Western reserve and Ohio U. have won three each and played one tie, but all the others have fallen.

Muskingum, second to Xavier in scoring with 136 points—but averaging 34 to the Musketeers' 30—has allowed only 14 points in four games for the state's top defensive mark.

In interstate play the Ohio clubs have won 30, lost 31 and tied two games, after winning five of 12 games with out-of state foes last weekend

Finns Prepare To Host 1952 Olympic Games

By ESTHER V. W. TUFTY
Central Press Correspondent

HELSINKI, Finland — Already everyone here is talking about the XV Olympic Games just around the 1952 corner. The athletic Finns are busy getting ready. They have waited a long time to have the big international sports event "at home."

The Finns, who have copped off many world titles, have been thwarted twice. Helsinki made valiant efforts to obtain the privilege to act as host for the 1940 games at the Berlin congress in 1936. But the other main applicant, Tokyo, won the majority of votes. Japan's drawn - out war with China made her, in 1938, abandon the games. So the International Olympic committee meeting in Cairo decided on Finland — and then outbreak of of World War II destroyed all Olympic hopes.

For the Finns to tackle the big job of playing host to the thousands of visitors is no small task. It is a staggering challenge just to house the thousands of contestants, sports writers and guests in the wake of the most painful housing shortage the city has ever faced.

However, the Finns thrive on doing the impossible. Many feared they could not pay off the heavy Russian reparations of 300 million gold dollars in eight years, but they are doing it.

The deadline on payments, strangely enough, comes in 1952. So the Finns will feel like celebrating at the Olympics!

It is not just the athletes who are Olympic - minded. The entire nation seems to be behind their Olympic officials, headed by the deputy mayor of Helsinki, Erki von Frenckell.

Helsinki's beautiful modern stadium, site of the games, with its spectacular tower, now seats 60,000 spectators and 10,000 more seats are being added. Of course, the work done in 1938 and 1939 for the never-held 12th Olympics of 1940 is a great help now.

Almost completed is the big equestrian hall, the velodrome (10,000 seats), the swimming pool (surrounded by 10,000 seats) and the canoeing stadium. Little repairs and modernization are all that is needed.

The biggest headache for the officials is where to bed the foreign visitors. Helsinki has few hotels and fewer luxuries.

At least the problem is solved for the 4,000 expected competitors. An Olympic village for men contestants is almost completed near the stadium.

Women competitors will be accommodated for technical high school students situated 20 minutes distance by bus to the west from the Olympic stadium.

The Finns' attitude towards the Olympics has some of the same reverence they gave their big sports hero, Paavo Nurmi, now retired. No one man but he has ever held all the world distance running records at one time.

Finland's No. 1 entry in the 1952 Games appears to be handsome Tapio Rautavaara, champion in the London Olympic Games of 1948 in javelin throw. He's a romantic figure, especially when strumming a guitar. He's in the movies and will be hot news copy.

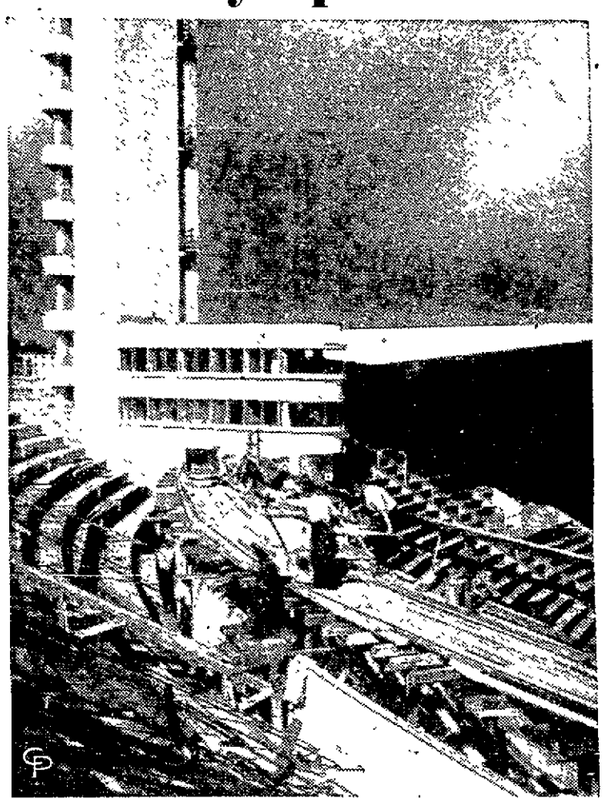

Sooe call 19-year-old Ilmari Taipale the "next Paavo Nurmi." His best time on one English mile was 4 minutes 10.4 seconds in 1949. He holds the Finnish record now.

Finland is a sporting country and the Olympic athletes have always held the admiration of the whole nation. In order to send Finland's athletes to the Olympic Games, even the poorest contribute and at the time of the games, the whole nation breathlessly follows the progress of its team, I was told.

The returning teams have brought 80 gold, 73 silver and 76 bronze medals. So to capture the XV Olympic Games is a dream come true.

Tapio Rautavaara

Workmen add 10,000 more seats to Helsinki's 60,000-seat stadium.

Lindo Lou, owned by Helen Willet of Plymouth, won the northern division championship in the spotted horse class.

Toledoan Wins In New Sailboat

TOLEDO — (AP) — Dick Krauss of Toledo yacht club won the Great Lakes championship for lightning-class sail-btats today, winning in morning and afternoon races over a field of 32 eastern and midwest rivals.

Krauss sailed a boat as yet unnamed, having placed it in water for the first time Saturday, he totaled 62½ points two races in Maumee Bay, covering a course of about nine nautical miles.

Sylvester Hall, football coach at Virginia State College, had a record of 54 wins, one loss, two ties in seven years at Cardoza High in Washington, D. C.

Heavy 'Champ' Opens Long Schedule of Exhibitions

SALT LAKE CITY, —(AP)— Ezzard Charles is a money-hungry champion with few if any challengers colorful enough to draw a profitable gate. So the NBA heavyweight boxing king opens a schedule of 25 exhibition bouts here tonight.

Charles still hopes for a title defense before Christmas.

The champ's managers—Al Weill and Jake Mintz—had staked their hopes on a title defense in Detroit early in November. The challenger was to be Nick Barone of Syracuse, N. Y., or Dick Wagner of Oregon City and Portland, Ore. The bout was to be announced after (and if) Charles KO'd Pat Valentino in San Francisco Friday.

But an unpopular decision and a cut eye blasted those hopes. Barone won the official verdict over Wagner in a Detroit scrap. Many sports writers and fans protested loudly that Wagner had won. But with the verdict against Wagner, Weill is skeptical how well he would draw against Charles despite Dick's popularity in Detroit.

Barone? He suffered a cut eye which Weill fears will not heal in time for an early meeting with Charles.

Other prospects? Weill and Mintz sum up this way:

Caesar Brion, a recent import from Argentina: Doing well in New York and might be booked for Madison Square Garden in December. Roland La Starza, popular Bronx heavy: ditto.

Joey Maxim of Cleveland and Chicago: Might go well in Chicago — but there's the handicap of a buildup against the record of three Charles verdicts, tho close, over Joey.

Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland: Might go well in Akron or Cleveland — but Charles has defeated Jimmy, three times already.

So it's the exhibition trail for the Cincinnati Negro. He'll have to pick up his money in small chunks.

Johnny Mize holds the major league record for hitting three home runs in a game during a career — he did it five times.

Japan—Four Years After

Nipponese Still Devoted To Emperor

By CLARK LEE

TOKYO — (INS) — Scores of camp fires sent their smoke curling through the scrubby trees in the park facing Japan's Imperial palace. Amid low-slung pup tents there was a sudden, unexpected glimpse of the flag hauled down in surrender four years ago — the blood red rising sun emblem of a militaristic, war crazed nation.

In an adjoining open plaza on the Imperial grounds, a baseball game was in progress, the fielders cleverly following each erratic hop of the ball on the pavement.

Farther along, also on the Emperor's once sacred property, model airplanes were launched in short flights by small boys who dreamed perhaps of the feats of the "fierce imperial war eagles," now long since dead in the skies of Midway, Guadalcanal and Okinawa.

Nearby, hundreds of fish poles dangled in the palace moat, but the imperial carp ignored the plebian bait.

All these sights — the 3,000 encamped boy Scouts, the sports and contests just outside the huge stone walls of the moat-encircled palace —were eloquent evidence of the changes brought about in four years of American occupation during which a new "democratized" Japan has been born.

BUT NOT far way, a centuries old, familiar rite was in progress. Individually and in little groups, citizens of the new Japan were walking across a quarter mile of broad pavement to bow deeply in reverence to Emperor Hirohito—still the symbol of national unity, still the center of Japan's spiritual life although he has been stripped of all official powers, shorn of his "divine" origin and removed from leadership of the now banned, nationalistic Shinto religion.

On a hillside behind the palace — opposite a sign somewhat tauntingly labelling an American housing project "Palace Heights" — there was further evidence of the unwavering devotion of the Japanese to the emperor.

Scores of women swarmed over the hill, trimming and cutting the trees and grass. They were part of an endless procession coming from the remote villages of Japan to offer their voluntary services in beautifying the palace. Some 90,000 men and women made such pilgrimages last year, paying their own expenses, frequently travelling many days by rail, bus and on foot to reach the capital.

Some American students of Japanese life, as well as English-speaking Japanese, say that the emperor's position in the eyes of his people is "about the same as before," and that Hirohito the individual has gained new popularity by his public appearances.

Occupation officials are not concerned, however, over the emperor's personal popularity nor by his spiritual hold on his people. They feel that his influence has aided in bringing about swift and bold progress in reforming Japan.

To the Japanese, there is nothing especially strange in the fact that the real military and political power in Japan reposes not in Hirohito but in General MacArthur.

There is ample precedent for his situation in Japanese history during centuries when a shogun ruled the country and the emperor was a powerless figurehead except as a spiritual symbol.

But regardless of how deep his reverence for the emperor, how nostalgic his longing may be for the days when Hirohito's forces were fighting swiftly from bloody victory to brutal conquest, no Japanese can be unaware of the tremendous, unprecedented revolution that has taken place in the past four years and has affected the lives each of the 82,000,000 people.

A RETURNING former resident of Tokyo feels the changes in the very atmosphere of this capital that now has risen from the ashes of its destruction by fire and explosive. There is a sense of freedom, of liberation in the air.

The corner traffic cop — going through a comical interpretation of gestures learned from American MP's — is simply a somewhat likeable individual in baggy pants and no longer the symbol of a terroristic police state. The look of grim sullenness and fear seems to have gone from the faces of the people; there is no apparent animosity or resentment in Japan-ese-American contacts; instead there is a suggestion of sympathetic camaraderie, of cooperation.

The men in MacArthur's headquarters — dedicated men who seem to have caught their commander's own zeal and spirit of historic achievement — explain the occupation's accomplishments in terms of statistics: industrial production up, exports up, fishing increased, the homeless housed, public health vastly improved, labor unionism strengthened, food production near maximum, textile spindles humming.

And in human terms: free elections, trial by jury, habeas corpus, tenant farmers freed from drudging slavery, now own their own lands, educational system reformed.

The democratization of Japan, they insist, is not just skin deep. They say the Japanese have proved that "given responsibility, they know how to handle the bases of representative government."

Most of the funds needed to put Japan back on its feet have been supplied, of course, by American taxpayers en what General MacArthur terms an expression of "innate American decency". The general adds:

"We knocked Japan down and now we have to build her up again. Which is proof of the fact that there are no longer any victors in wars."

There is little war talk in Japan, little talk of converting the country into a military bastion against possible Soviet aggression, although there is an active realization of the sweep of communism through Asia and of Japan's strategic position under the Soviet gun.

3 Czech Hockey Players Purged

LONDON — (INS) — The Czechs aren't letting their hopes of sports supremacy interfere with politics.

The London Dairy Herald said today that Czechoslovakia has purged three star hockey players as "demoralizing elements."

The Dispatch said the purge would wreck Czech hopes of retaining the world ice hockey championship.

Parsons Winner In 100-Mile Race

LANGHORNE, Pa. — (P) — Winning national big car racing championships has become a habit with Johnny Parsons.

The Van Nuys, Calif., driver yesterday won his fifth national championship in capturing the 100-mile event at the one-mile Langhorne speedway before a crowd of more than 18,000. His time was 64:56.22.

Neil Carter, Dayton, O., finished second.

Discover Filings, Ground Cargo Craft

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — (P)—Capt. H. M. Brockett, public relations officer at the San Bernardino Airforce base, said Saturday that some C-47 transport planes have been grounded because zinc chromate filings were found in the gasoline tanks.

"There is absolutely no evidence of sabotage," he said. Zinc chromate, he said, is used to coat the inside of the tanks to fill the seams.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO

Proposing to amend section 7 of article IV of the constitution of the state of Ohio relative to probate courts.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members of each house concurring therein, That there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1949, a proposition to amend section 7 of article IV of the constitution of the state of Ohio as follows:

ARTICLE IV

Sec. 7. There shall be established in each county, a probate court, which shall be a court of record, open at all times, and holden by one or more judges, as the general assembly may determine by law, elected by the electors of the county, who shall hold the office for the term of six years, and shall receive such compensation as shall be provided by law. Whenever ten per centum of the number of electors voting for governor at the next preceding election in any county having less than sixty thousand population as determined by the next preceding federal census, shall petition the judge of the court of common pleas of any such county not less than ninety days before any general election for county officers, the judge of the court of common pleas shall submit to the electors of such county the question of combining the probate court with the court of common pleas, and such courts shall be combined and shall be known as the court of common pleas in case a majority of the electors voting upon such question vote in favor of such combination. Notice of such election shall be given in the same manner as for the election of county officers. Elections may be had in the same manner for the separation of such courts, when once combined.

SCHEDULE

If a majority of the electors voting on the foregoing proposed amendment adopt the same it shall become a part of the constitution of the state of Ohio, and existing section 7 of article IV of said constitution shall thereupon be repealed.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF OHIO
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, CHARLES F. SWEENEY, Secretary of State of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is an exemplified copy, carefully compared by me with the original now on file in my office and in my official custody as Secretary of State and found to be true and correct, of a Joint Resolution adopted by the Ninety-eighth General Assembly of the State of Ohio, on the 7th day of July, 1949, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 12th day of July, 1949, proposing to amend Article IV, Section 7, of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to the Probate Court.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my official seal at Columbus, Ohio, this 12th day of September, 1949.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Jazz Record Collecting Big Business

Dusty Attic Discs May Prove Golden

CHICAGO — (AP) — There may be a pot of gold hidden in the dusty phonograph records in your attic

Jazz record collecting is big business, and collectors' items bring good prices Some authorities estimate the attics, basements and garages of the nation hold more valuable wax rarities than all the record stores combined.

George Hoefer, writer, for Down Beat magazine, jazz critic and longtime collector, lists two King Oliver records on the old Gennett label as among the most valuable items known. Either one, he estimates, would bring $1,000.

There is only one known copy of one of these 1923 discs— Zulu's Ball" and "Workingman Blues", on Gennett 5275 The owner of this record keeps it locked in a safe deposit box The other record, "If You Want My Heart," and "That Sweet Something Dear," on Gennett 5276 is known to exist, but never has turned up.

Any discussion of prices, Hoefer emphasies, presupposes the record is in "mint" condition Prices decline in geometric ratio to the amount of surface wear to which a waxing has been subjected But even a "poor" condition copy of either of the fabulous Oliver records would be valuable.

If you have some old records on the QRS label by Earl Hines, they'll sell, Hoefer estimates, for $50 each. They were Hines' first recorded piano solos. The company which made them stayed in the recording business only a few months.

Other rarities include two records made by a small band under the direction of a Chicago butcher whose hobby was music His name was Charley Pierce, and when Paramount records asked him to 'get some boys together" for a recording date he showed up with a small band which included Muggsy Spanier and the late Frank Teschemacher on clarinet The waxings from that session are worth $40 to $50 apiece.

The one-time prevalence of musical pseudonyms — is exemplifid in th reording career of Cornetist Red Nichols.

Nichols, appears, with his band, as Red Nichols and His Five Pennies on the Brunswick label; the Arkansas Travelers on Harmony, the Red Heads on Perfect; Red and Miff's Stompers on Victor; the Six Hottentots on Cameo; the Charleston Chasers on Columbia, and the Golden Gate orchestra on Edison. Most of his old records will bring between $5 and $15 in mint—brand new — condition

In general, Hoefer says, the best collector's items are to be found on white label Vocalion Rd Okeh, Gennett, QRS, and Paramount

One thing you're apt to find in your attic is a bunch of discs by the Originall Dixieland Jazz Band. Don't get excited. They're old, yes—and they're important to jazz lovers. But the sad fact is that they're as common as dandelions, and — Hoefer says are worth around 15 cents each.

MOTHER EXPECTED TWINS—GETS QUADS—When C. O. Hargreaves took his wife to the hospital he was quite prepared to hear that his wife had given birth to twins, but he got the shock of his life when the announcement came that she had given birth to the four young ladies above in Sault Ste Marie, Ontario Mrs Hargreaves had been happy to hear that she could expect twins but says she is twice as happy with the quadruplets The quads have not yet been named.

John Simpson Gym Will Be Re-Opened To Pupils Today

By DANNY SZIRIAK

The John Simpson gym will be ready for use today. New rules and regulations set up for the classes and games prohibit bringing food in the gym which would damage the newly-finished floor.

Students will have a nickel more for their lunch as the price of the activity fee has dropped from 15 cents to 10 cents. This price will still give students noon movies, sports, lockers and assemblies, towel service, and the Times.

The eighth graders are taking Mental Maturity tests, which are designed to show the IQ of the student These annual tests are being taken in Room 109 and are conducted by Miss Hester Robinson, Simpson's guidance adviser.

The annual war is being waged against sling shot..

GAA members are praising the lowering of the GAA dues.

The Simpson Times is one of the 12 junior high papers in the country to be accepted as an associate member in Quill and Scroll. The Quill and Scroll is a senior high school organization for journalists

AID DRIVE

Chuck Culp, Phyllis Penrose, Delores McElvain and Gay West helped distribute posters and pamphlets during Fire Prevention week.

Students will start getting grades next Tuesday. Grade cards will be issued to students Oct 26.

William Wilmuth is the new second-floor custodian. He calls Simpson his alma mater.

The patrol boys are keeping an eye on all students who try to crash the light. If caught, the students must go to bicycle court.

On Oct. 19, the Bulldogs will meet Bellville in a junior high double header at Arlin field

Oct. 26 is the big sports event — Appleseed Pioneers against Simpson Bulldogs at Arlin field, 8 p m.

Bulldog pins are being sold by GAA members during the noon period in the halls. The sales force is in charge of Marlene Brauchler, president

Cheerleaders Rita Staples, Dorothy Jordon, Marcia Hines, Ronnie Cline, Winnie Maskey and Kathleen Russell have worked out six new cheers

The Bulldogs won against the Madison Reserves Oct. 13.

Murderer Loses Appeal for Life

ATHENS — (AP) — The Fourth District Court of Appeals has turned down the appeal of Harry Z Dodds, 21, convicted slayer of an Athens woman church worker. Dodds is a former inmate of Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield.

He is scheduled to die in Ohio penitentiary's electric chair Nov. 1 Dodds, formerly of New Straitsville and Carbondale, was convicted by a common pleas court jury of the Jan 2, 1949 slaying of Miss Eleanor Gifford.

Fabricators Unhit Yet By Strikes

To Feel Effect Within Month

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The magazine Steel reported today that so far comparatively few fabricating plants have curtailed operations because of lack of steel.

The publication's weekly summary of the metalworking industry predicted, however, that "unprecedented contraction of activities" would set in next month unless the steel and coal disputes are ended.

"Creeping industrial paralysis threatens" the industry, Steel said, adding:

"Consumers' inventories will begin to evaporate or become too unbalanced to permit economical production in many plants by the end of October."

The average supply of steel on hand at manufacturing plants when the steel strike started was enough to last 30 days, "but manufacturers have been chewing metal up at a fast pace, putting a big dent in what two weeks ago appeared to be comfortable supplies," Steel reported.

Union Acts To Oust 9

were: Russell Yarman, James Young, Glenn Hedges, Pete Teofillo, and Ralph Jesson.

The charges were filed by: Henry Myers, Richard Kline, LeRoy Hole, Robert Yeager, John Carr, George Price and John W. Bush.

At the meeting Hawkins repeated a statement made several weeks ago that there will be a Local 711 UEW, CIO, regardless of what action national officers take.

The right-wing faction of the UE said left-wing leaders are attempting to have the union disbarred from the CIO. But, regardless of the national officers, the right-wing controlled locals will remain in the CIO as a UEW local, spokesmen said.

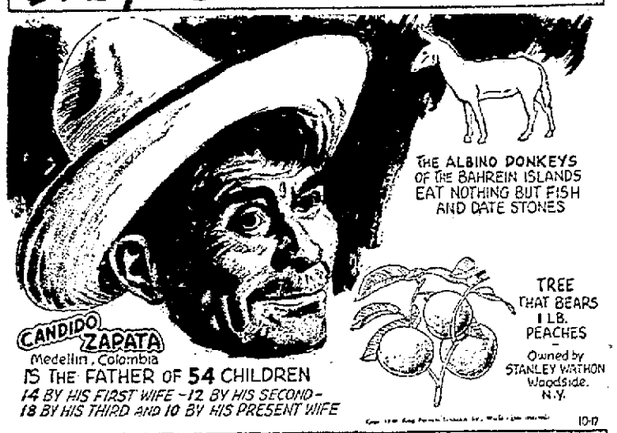

There was a discussion of the union's progress in its negotiations with Westinghouse Electric corporation. "The negotiations are continuing because the union members want them to continue," Hawkins said. National UEW officers at a recent convention, asked for an immediate strike vote at Westinghouse and General Electric plants.

Members of the union then discussed the three-mill school levy that will be up for renewal at the November 8 election. They voted to back the levy, and work for its success.

OSR Official Captures Two Escapers While On Vacation

reformatory eluded a police posse of about 30 men Sunday afternoon at a farm just southwest of Fostoria.

Officers believed they wounded one of the two men who were identified as Ned Stanton, 25, and Edward Riebesehl, 29. Stanton was paroled on Sept. 15 and Riebesehl escaped the OSR Sept. 28.

The two men fled from a farmhouse where Stanton's wife had been staying and escaped across a corn field with Fostoria police, Seneca county sheriff's officers and state highway patrolmen in pursuit. The manhunt was called off last night.

SOUGHT IN ROBBERY

Stanton has been sought for parole violation and questioning in connection with an armed robbery in Indiana. He was received at the OSR Feb. 13, 1947 to serve five to 30 years for breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season. Stanton is a native of Findlay.

Riebeschl, under one-to-15 sentence at the OSR for assault with intent to rob, is a native of Napoleon.

A state-wide alarm also was out today for a 21-year-old Mansfield reformatory escaper, who fled the institution's farm dormitory yesterday. He is suspected of stealing a car from GBU yard.

OSR officials identified the fugitive as LeRoy Edward of Summit county. Sheriff's deputies said they believed Edward took a car bearing Washington license B-1218 from the park between 8 and 10 p. m. yesterday. The car, owned by Edward G. Kirk, Ashland, R. D. 1, was reported gone at 10:40 p. m.

Edward was received at the OSR on April 16 of this year to serve one to 25 years for unarmed robbery.

Three dates appear on the face of the cornerstone, the large figures "1949" at the top and the smaller figures, "1835," and "1871," in the lower corners. The 1835 is the date of the founding of the Congregational church in Mansfield, and 1871 is the date of the laying of the cornerstone of the old church on Park Avenue west which was destroyed by fire.

Among the articles which were placed in the metal box at the noon worship service were church records, exterior and interior photographs of the old church, telegrams received at the ground-laying ceremony, brief histories of church organizations, a list of church and Sunday school members and staff, a copy of the 1948 annual report, and a list of church pastors until the present time.

Dr. Everett A. Babcock, superintendent of Congregational-Christian churches in Ohio, was the guest speaker at the noon service.

Chinese Fire On U. S. Ship

NEW YORK — (AP) — An American steamship reported she was fired on by a Chinese nationalist vessel while leaving Shanghai Saturday.

H. J. Isbrandtsen, president of the Isbandtsen Steamship company, said the message was received from the lines S. S. Flying Trader.

She reported that the nationalist ship fired on her outside Chinese territorial limits.

"So far as we know the vessel was stopped," he said. "We have no information that she has proceeded."

He said he had notified the U. S. State department of the report because "it is time all that sort of thing were stopped."

SEEK $141,633

Today's breakfast, which was sponsored for the fifth consecutive year by W. A. Brandenburg and the Brandenburg Chevrolet company, marked the official opening of the city-wide solicitation by nearly 800 workers, who will be seeking to raise $141,633 with which to operate the Community Chest's 11 agencies as well as the National USO.

A highlight of the meeting was the announcement by several division chairmen of "over the top" reports, particularly in the industrial and advanced gifts divisions, which opened their campaign last Monday.

So far, the following Mansfield companies have subscribed their quotas: Mansfield Plating company, Globe Steel Abrasive company, Empire Steel corporation and Farm Tools, Inc. Total amount raised toward the 1949 goal is $28,365, McConnell said this morning.

This figure is represented by $726 pledged by the Small Industries division, headed by James Clark aand William Flinn; $7,155 from Industrial "B," of which Marshall Seybold and Roy Waxler are chairmen; $7,000 from Industrial "A," headed by Robert M. Myers anad Howard Richards, and $12,500 from the advanced gifts division headed by George L. Draffan.

W. W. Purdy of the Special Gifts division, was the first campaign worker to turn in a complete and over-subscribed quota. He reported a total of $865 collected on his quota of $775, McConnell said.

Flying Disc Turns Out to Be Portion of Furnace Top

An army officer said Saturday a doughnut-shaped disc found near here revived "flying saucer" reports was the top of a hot air furnace.

"It was somebody's joke," said Maj. George Stephens of the nearby Susquehanna army sub-depot after examining the device.

"It is the top of a hot air furnace which somebody cut off with an acetylene torch," Major Stephens told a reporter. He made it plain that he was voicing a personal opinion.

The disc was recovered from the town park at Laporte, Pa., about 25 miles northeast of here. Witnesses said the disc fell flaming from the sky last Aug. 5 and landed in the park where it burned a 10-foot swath in the grass.

The witnesses said several explosions took place as the disc descended toward the ground.

Don Smith likes to work things out for himself—but he works hard for others at Community Chest time

Like most people who have children, Mary and I often worry about how well we're preparing Jean and Jimmy for all the experiences they have ahead of them . . . things like learning a trade or going to school . . . getting married . . . having children of their own . . . being good citizens.

Lots of times, I think we do more worrying than we need to do. The kids are both healthy and happy. Neither of them are what you'd call scholars, but they do well in school, and if they want to go on to college, well, I guess we'll manage that too.

We get a lot of enjoyment from the children. Jimmy and I have a checker tournament that runs right through to June. And Mary and Jean do things together: sew, shop, engage in "women talk."

Nope, when you get right down to it, the Donald Smiths don't need the Community Chest. As a matter of fact, most Mansfield families don't actually depend on any of the Red Feather services but all of us do benefit from them. My guess would be that most of the other 13,600 Mansfield families lead lives pretty much like ours.

But you'd be surprised at the number of folks who do get help from Community Chest agencies during the year. We've still got kids whose folks can't afford to buy them clothes or take them for proper medical attention. And we still have juvenile delinquency in our town. Our record's getting better, but we still have more cases than we should. And there are more older people than you might expect who look forward to the calls from the visiting nurse. And we're still losing too many families to the divorce courts.

But here's the wonderful thing about living in America. We're still doing well enough to be responsible for ourselves. And as long as the good citizens of Mansfield (and all the other towns from Maine to California) can keep giving part of their earnings for the less fortunate folks, we don't have much to worry about.

Sure, we've got a big job to do, but we can do it ourselves. We don't need bosses or politicians or governments to do it for us. This year when you're asked to contribute to the Community Chest, dig way down deep. Let's show everybody that Mansfield people can take care of their own.

Philip Murray, head of the steelworkers unions, predicts an early end to the steel strike—and he should know, as he can end it any time he wants to.

There has been no encouragement of a novelty dealer's proposal to cut the old White House into small pieces, to be sold for souvenirs—although the idea seems no wilder than some others floating around in Washington.

Death Lurks In Mansfield Suburb

DEATH of another infant in the area just northwest of Mansfield, in which sanitary conditions are held to be dangerous to adults as well as children, should serve to keep alive the subject of quickly bettering these conditions—not only for the benefit of those living in the area but as a safeguard to community health as well.

While expense seems to stand in the way of incorporation of this suburban section, it should be taken into account that the present situation is such as to depreciate property values probably more than would be the cost of needed improvements, such as acquiring a pure water supply and sewage disposal facilities.

In a recent communication one navy veteran who says he has $9,000 invested in a home in Roseland, mentions that there are about five hundred families in that section living under very good conditions, with a number having homes in the $7,000 to $10,000 price range.

He adds: "I don't believe there is any excuse in the world for anyone living like some people do . . . I would not be surprised if their earnings are more than mine and that they could afford to live better."

Present suggestions include adoption of a county zoning plan, designed to prevent further development of subdivisions without regard to reasonable health safeguards, but the immediate problem is to eliminate some of the insanitary conditions now existing in this immediate area. The solution rests with interested property owners, health authorities, county officials and assurance of public support of whatever action is decided upon as advisable.

No 'Corner' On Eggs Probable

IT HAS BEEN a long time since any serious talk was heard of a "corner" in commodity trading. A corner is created when a trader, or syndicate of traders, gets control of substantially all of the available supply of a commodity, and thus is able to sell at his own price.

In earlier days corners in grains and other essential crop items used to be achieved on occasion, resulting in fantastic profits for the successful traders. The corners also resulted in exorbitant prices to all consumers of affected commodities, for no reason except to provide excessive profits to manipulators of corners. Now rules have been devised which make the achievement of a corner almost impossible.

It was hinted recently that someone may have been attempting to corner the October egg market. At any rate emergency trading restrictions were applied on the Chicago mercantile exchange.

It there was anything to the rumor, the trader attempting to corner eggs must have had unbounded confidence in the public desire for strictly fresh eggs, or must have forgotten altogether about the competition offered by the government, which in its own peculiar way has been cornering eggs regularly for the past few years, and has a prodigious stock of eggs which could be used to the embarrassment of any small-fry operator.

Prize Fights That Cause Death

THERE OCCURRED recently in Detroit the eighth recorded death in professional boxing for 1949. The victim died from the effects of a blow to the head received in the course of a scheduled match. A glance at the record book brought the information that there were 14 deaths in the prize ring in 1948.

Why should these men have died? There are occasional fatalities in some other competitive sports. Promoters and enthusiasts advance arguments in justification of the risks taken, on the ground that gains to society are worth the risks. In automobile, plane and boat racing, for instance, it is pointed out that substantial technical advances have been made as a result of the stimulus of competition.

In other individual and team play sports it is argued that the skills learned and sense of teamwork acquired by participants are of a value to the individuals and society far outweighing risks of injury or death. It is harder to find an argument to justify death in the prize ring.

If it were entirely free from dangers to the participants, there are some who nevertheless would ask whether professional boxing is useful to society. Perhaps it may be argued that a sport need not have demonstrable usefulness, and prize fighting is not the only one which could be questioned on that score. But it does seem reasonable to demand justification for imperiling life, limb and health in such an activity.

From Hollywood To Politics

"FROM Maine to California" is an old phrase used to indicate the popularity of some institution. Maine has a woman senator, Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith, elected last year. Now the other end of the nation has its opportunity to follow suit. Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, for a number of years representative in Congress from Los Angeles, has announced her intention of trying for the Democratic senatorial nomination, in opposition to Senator Sheridan Downey.

Mrs. Douglas used to be a well-known movie actress, her husband, Melvin, is still on the screen. Their activities have helped to show that Hollywood has its serious side; that because a man or a woman is a movie star is no reason why he or she cannot also be a useful person in other fields.

The accident prevention slogan, "The life you save may be your own", is an appeal to the most selfish side man's character can have—desire to save his own skin without interest in the lives of others. But perhaps it is the right approach to the problem of traffic safety, for certainly the driving habits of many Americans are essentially selfish.

France Enters Upon New Experiment

BY J. C. OESTREICHER

SOMETHING new in political experiments is being tried in France, birthplace of countless innovations in the field of government.

Jules Moch, socialist party standard-bearer who was approved as premier by a single proxy vote in the national assembly, has presented himself as the nation's new leader in a somewhat paradoxical fashion.

He is a bitter foe of communism and of dictatorship

But he has promised the nation a government of "strong resolute men" on the grounds that the French people "want to be governed," a rather strange phrase to characterize a race that has been credited with building the modern world's first cradle of liberty.

The seemingly dictatorial tinge inherent in Moch's first statement of policy is tempered to some degree by the knowledge that Moch must select a middle-of-the-road coalition cabinet which will maintain the policies of its predecessors.

But Moch already has shown his ability to utilize strong measures. This was chiefly apparent during the communist-led wave of strikes which all but crippled France industrially in 1947. His drastic orders to heavily-armed police during that crisis were of the sort that had caused French revolutions in the past.

But he got away with it.

* * *

Has a Good Record.

DESPITE his narrow margin of victory in the assembly, Moch has two attributes which enhance his stature in the eyes of the French people.

One is his staunch anti-communism and his bitter opposition to the cominform theory that French workingmen should pay allegiance to Moscow.

The other is the fact that he is a fighting man, with an impeccable record in both world wars and throughout the occupation.

Communist opposition to his program of wage bonuses and price stability will be savage. But it has been driven home to the French people and to the national assembly that French prestige abroad — on which the nation's economy depends — is linked closely to the tranquility that can be maintained at home.

It was for this reason that former Premier Henri Queuille stepped out of office before the national assembly had a chance to vote non-confidence in his government and possibly thus creata a more serious crisis in which the conservative or 'third force" element could not remain in power.

The general belief is that if Moch or any potential successor can stave off a serious political rebellion until the end of the year, France will have solidified her recovery and balanced her books to as great an extent as any nation does these days.

Grove Patterson Extols Beauty Of Autumn In Mansfield Area

QUITE RECENTLY Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo Blade, motored in this direction, and after lunch at Louis Bromfield's Malabar farm, drove on into the Mohican Park area "to have a look at central Ohio at its best in a crimson and gold uniform."

Grove, who has "been everywhere and seen everything," tells his impressions of the trip in his "The Way of the World" column in the Toledo Blade:

He says: "Anyone who has anything that will run on wheels and has a few hours to spare is making a serious error if he isn't taking to the roads before this October is gone forever.

You may live a long time but this month will not come again in quite the same way, for it is more beautiful this year than ever. Well, perhaps we who love Ohio in autumn say that every year, but anyway I am going to say it.

"It's about a dozen miles southeast of Mansfield, and very near Loudonville, and anyone around those parts will tell you where the entrance is.

"When you have driven through Mohican state park you will have added something to your permanent collection of remembrances."

Editor News-Journal:

In the interest of accuracy and truth kindly permit me space for a brief comment on Elsie Robinson's article, "How to Teach Religion," in last Monday's News-Journal.

Miss Robinson says: "The man who wrote it, (the 23rd Psalm) King David, had been a reckless, wild character in his youth. He had known life as few men know it."

This statement is pure fiction and entirely contrary to the plain tesumony of the Old Testament scriptures, our principal, if not only, source of knowledge on the subject.

David, as a youth, was an unknown and unspoiled shepherd boy, of whom it is recorded that he was a man after God's own heart. (1 Sam. 3:14; Acts 13.22)

It was not until middle age, at the height of his kingly popularity and power, that the one dark sin which scripture records against him, took place.

Again Miss Robinson says: "It (the Sermon on the Mount) was said by a Man who was facing death and knew he was facing it. That is why there is nothing but truth in it He could not lie in an extremity like that."

The Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5, 6 and 7) was spoken by Jesus at the beginning of His three or more years of earthly ministry and not at the end of it when the shadow of the cross was upon Him, as Miss Robinson's loosely phrased statement would indicate.

But far worse than her mistaken timing is the insinuation that it was the shadow of impending death that made Him fear to tell anything but the truth—"He could not lie in an extremity like that."

Jesus told the truth not only in the sermon on the mount, but in everything He said, not through any fear of death or of man, but because He was the Truth, and uttered the truth to men as the revelation of Himself and His Father. (John 14:6.)

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Link Between Coal and Steel Strikes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis is now about as sore at U.S. steel as his once friend, now rival CIO Chief Phil Murray. This was behind John L.'s sudden walkout from the conference with northern operators at White Sulphur Springs, Va., and here is the inside story of what happened.

Lewis had put out a "feeler" to northern owners that they settle the strike by increasing the 20-cent welfare fund payments to 30 cents a ton. Also, Lewis suggested a small, straight wage increase, plus a seven-hour day at the same wages the miners now receive for eight hours work.

All this was not a take-it-or-leave-it demand, but a suggested basis for negotiation. The miner boss made it clear that he was chiefly interested in a boost in welfare-fund payments.

The very fact that Lewis had made an "offer" even through the feeler method—was big news, since up till then both sides had shied away from making the first overture.

However, U.S. steel, which controls the coal strike talks almost as tightly as it controls the position of management in the steel strike, wasn't impressed. When the coal operators discussed Big John's secret proposal, Harry Moses, president of the U.S. Steel's H. C. Frick Coal company, would have no part of it.

George Love, of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, who works hand-in-glove with U.S. Steel, also objected—which meant that Lewis's "feeler" was a dead duck.

* * *

Reason For Opposition.

The reason for U.S. Steel's opposition is that it can't give Lewis more than it gives Phil Murray.

In fact, U. S. Steel already has many industrial leaders sore because two years ago it gave Lewis a welfare fund with no contribution from the union. Despite this, U.S. Steel has now turned round and is demanding that the steelworkers themselves contribute something to their proposed welfare fund.

Therefore, if U.S. Steel's captive coal company now increases Lewis's welfare fund without any payments from labor, Phil Murray would make a fresh set of demands on behalf of the United Steelworkers.

When Lewis learned that his "feeler" had been rejected, he was fit to be tied. Insiders expected him to barge into the next meeting, spewing fire and verbal brimstone at the northern operators. Instead, he walked in without saying a word, sat for five minutes scowling at the window. Then, as contemptuous as when he entered, he walked out.

Figuring that Lewis had gone to the men's room, the northern operators waited and waited. Finally they learned that John was already on his way to Bluefield, W. Va., to confer with southern operators.

The Mysterious Maragon.

JACK O'Brien, director of information for the office of housing expediter, got a phone call some time ago from a man with a thick accent who said:

"This is Drew Pearson calling, and I want to know why Colonel James Hunt spends so much time around your office? If you're not careful I'm going to write a story about it. You'd better get rid of that fellow Hunt."

The alleged "Drew Pearson" referred to "five-percenter" James Hunt, the friend of General Harry Vaughan, and supposedly also the friend of the mysterious John Maragon.

However, Jack O'Brien, being reasonably familiar with the voice of this columnist, recognized the thick accent to be that of Maragon, himself. Posing as this columnist, Maragon was trying to scare the housing expediter's office away from Hunt in order to leave a clear field for himself.

Note—Maragon is now telling friends that he is engaged in a big diamond deal, says he is leaving the country shortly on a mission to buy diamonds.

Revival of 'Last Chance'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — In the lore of our own west a legendary institution was the "Last Chance" saloon, a plain, weathered clapboard edifice perched at the end of main street in those numerous tiny habitations which, themselves, sat on the edge of the seemingly boundless plains that rolled toward the sunset.

Inside, about the bar, there was usually a congenial atmosphere as neighbors who lived miles apart passed the time of day. Often it was a debating society.

On occasion it was the scene of brawls and gun fights, or the place where local feuds were talked about familiarly, for they were numerous and there was no law but the law of the gun.

But, as our empire moved westward, new folks moved in who wanted to live and work and raise their families in peace and quiet. They made that plain. But it was not until the strong men in the community saw it, too, that something was done about it. And one day they got together, like as not in one of those last chance saloons, and decided it was time for law and order and elected themselves a sheriff from among them and gave him a badge and told him to enforce the law and they'd back him up.

It was, finally, just as simple as that.

We've got a "Last Chance" saloon of sorts in New York today, though its polite name is united nations. There are gathered the strong men and the "hands" of the great ranchers of the world today whom we call "diplomats," also politely. Sometimes there's a friendly atmosphere there. Always it's a debating society. And constantly there's talk about the feuding going on in our community, which is the whole, wide world.

* * *

Peace Is Objective.

THE REST of us folks in the world have been talking anxiously among ourselves for a long time now about having a community where we can live and work and raise our families in peace and quiet. But the leaders of our community in the "Last Chance" saloon in New York don't seem to get the idea yet.

Now they're in a dither and somewhat excited because one the two biggest ranchers has now got hold of the same deadly weapon, known as the atom bomb, that the other big rancher has got—and with bad blood between those two big fellows, too.

All we want is for those fellows in the "Last Chance" saloon to get together and organize a real community government with the same law for everybody, and a sheriff and a posse to enforce it. Law is the only way, for folks always are going to squabble among themselves.

All of which is directed to something that's going to happen here this week among representatives of your own Congress of the United States, one of the two big ranchers. This is public hearings on Wednesday and Thursday by the House foreign affairs committee on a resolution sponsored by 105 House members and 22 senators, nearly a fourth of Congress, which says:

"It is the sense of the Congress that it should be a fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations and to seek its development into a world federation open to all nations with defined and limited powers adequate to preserve peace and prevent aggression through the enactment, interpretation and enforcement of law."

If Congress would pass that, it might stir up those fellows in New York. That was the very way that the United Nations, itself, was started—by Congress going on record for our people in resolutions.

All of you folks can't come here to tell the committee how you feel, but you can write or wire about it. Congress listens to you if you raise a fuss, as any old-timer around here can tell you.

Down Honey Creek Way

An October Morning

By LOIS ADAMS BYERS

THE ALARM in the attic jingled. I heard the self-appointed earliest riser clamber out of bed, descend the ladder and go whistling toward the barn. Pretty soon, he came back—having pailed the cow—and stopped at my door.

"Isn't anybody going to get up? It's a wonderful day."

"Yes, dear—I'm coming. How nice it is that one boy around here likes to get up early!"

"Daddy did."

"Yes, I know."

We walked out the path together, to get the feel of the day. He's as tall as I—our second son—and growing so fast that his appetite is awesome and delightful His father would have known better than I what to feed an eager mind to balance the upsurging virility that overspills in moods and nonsense

It was indeed one of these perfect October mornings when even the dullest of sense must feel that "earth's crammed with heaven, and every flaming bush alive with God."

Warm rain in the night had dripped the red-gold of the maples down into vivid pools upon the lawn. It seemed as if the trees cast glorified shadows. Two puddles gleamed in the drive, reflecting back the first radiant glints of morning.

Along the curving back-country road misty white and purple asters drooped, purple thistles gleamed among tilted milk-weed pods that waited for sun and wind to scatter the frost-loosened seed from their bursting follicles. The scent of the woods on the hill filled all the lower valley with a clean bracing pungence.

We stood for a moment, silent there. Companionship without words can be longest remembered.

"The moon was still there in the west when I first came out," said the boy." And the sun hadn't quite made it over the hills." He spoke softly. I did not question him.

An awkward, ungainly old crow lit on the hoglot fence and began to caw vaingloriously. A flock of curious, black-feathered scamps came flapping to join him. The boy laughed and pointed a rollicking moment succeeded the quiet one.

But I felt, somehow, that I had been honored by the fellowship of two—the man-who-was as well as the man-to-be.

Prospects In China.

According to an Associated Press correspondent who has spent several months behind the Communist lines in China, the new Soviet-sponsored Chinese regime "faces a long and bitter struggle." That may well be For, as Seymour Topping points out, it is one thing to defeat the badly organized and led armies of the Nationalist government and another thing to solve China's complex economic problems—especially without American assistance

In the long run, undoubtedly the Chinese Communists must show that they can improve the wretched lot of their people, at least in a material sense, if they are ever to be more than a minority party ruling a police state. But that long run might be very long, indeed. For the non-Communist Chinese at the moment have neither a practical alternative to communism nor the prospect of one —Kansas City Star.

Bucyrus May Get State VFW Offices

Plan Before City Council On Tuesday

Transfer Includes Site, Buildings

BUCYRUS — Proposed establishment here of state headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will come up for discussion at Tuesday night's meeting of city council, Mayor R. L. Hertzer announced today.

The mayor said State VFW Commander John Emde of Akron is considering transfer of state headquarters from Columbus to this city if a suitable tract of land is provided the veterans' organization.

City council will be asked to consider offering the VFW the 15 - acre Lions" ball park and playground here as the site for the proposed headquarters, which would include four buildings laid out in a Cross of Malta pattern.

The Lions' playground valued at about $20,000 last winter was deeded to the city by the local Lions' club. It was the scene of several VFW state softball tournaments.

State VFW officials said about $40,000 is available for construction of the headquarters, which would include offices, a. assembly hall, a gymnasium and a community building. Tentative plans also call for a drill field, field house and stadium, rifle and skeet ranges, softball fields and parking area.

If the city tenders the VFW a tract of land, the proposed change in state headquarters will be discussed at the state VFW conference in Canton, Nov. 5-6.

It was reliably reported that some high-ranking Ohio VFW leaders are opposed to moving state headquarters from Columbus, the proposed change being initiated by Commander Emde.

WILLARD HOSPITAL CORNERSTONE RITES—Impressive ceremonies last week marked the laying of the cornerstone for the $110,000 addition to the Willard Municipal hospital building. Left to right are: W. G. Mehl, Mrs. T. A. Purcell, Mrs. B. C. Lewis, E. H. Brown, Mayor Ray A. Snook, Miss Gertrude Baker, hospital superintendent A. L. Bilger and Walter E. Dwy, members of the hospital building commission and hospital board. The new addition will provide for 26 beds, double the number for which the original building was designed. The foundation now is up to the ground level. The first floor of the wing will be 40 by 101 feet and the second story 40 by 80 feet. Also attending the rites were Granville E. Scott, Norwalk architect, who designed the addition, and Walter P. Whiteman of Toledo, the contractor. John E. Wise, president of the Willard United Bank, gave the main address.

Soprano Opens Bucyrus Series

BUCYRUS — The 1949-50 Bucyrus Community Concert series will be inaugurated at Bucyrus high school auditorium Thursday night with the appearance of Jane Hobson, young American mezzo-soprano, who was a guest soloist with Arturo Toscanini and Leopold Stokowski, during her first full-fledged concert season.

Miss Hobson's recital will be the opening event in a series of three concerts booked by the local Community Concert association.

On Jan. 30, the colorful Spanish dance team of Rosario and Antonio, accompanied by a troupe of dancers, will be presented and the concluding concert will be a piano and violin duo, Sorin and De La Fuente, on March 27.

Willard P-TA Sets First Meeting Today

WILLARD — Publicity chairman Mrs. D. E. Williams announces the Parent-Teacher association will hold its first meeting of the season today in the Willard high school auditorium.

Included on the program are the introduction of new teachers, introduction of room mothers; and Supt. Dale W. Gates will show blueprints of the proposed new school and addition to the East Side school, to be voted upon in the November election.

A representative of the Huron county elections board will explain the new voting machine, one of which will be set up at the high school; and a report will be given of the recent state P-TA convention in Columbus.

Area Newcomers

GALION — A daughter was born early Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glass of Galion, R. D. 1.

MILLERSBURG — A son was born Thursday in Pomerene hospital here to Mr. and Mrs. John Schlabach, of Fredericksburg, R. D. 2.

Holmes Justice Fines Hunters, Halloweeners

MILLERSBURG— Four cases were heard Friday night by Justice E. Marcus Cox. Two arrests were by the sheriff's department and two by Game protector Errett C. Allison.

Jacob Yoder, 18, and Noah Raber, 21, of near Charm, started their Halloweening a bit early and it resulted in their arrest. They were arrested by the sheriff's department and charged with destruction of property. They were charged with destruction of three gates of a neighbor, Albert D. Miller. Each was fined $25 and costs which they paid.

Arthur Phillips, 64 and John Spires, 46, both of Mogodore, were arraigned on a charge arising from hunting in this county on Sept. 24. They were arrested by Game Protector Allison for hunting upon the George Bowers farm west of Millersburg, without a permit. They each paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Attica Completes Halloween Plans

ATTICA — The Community Halloween party will be held Monday, Oct. 31.

The parade will form and leave from the school at 7:00 oclock. Judging of costumes will follow the parade. Free dancing and refreshments will be had.

This program is sponsored by the Attica Businessmen's association.

DR. DOESCHER HONORED

BUCYRUS — Dr. Waldemar O. Doescher, a former Crawford county resident, has been elected vice president of the Association of Lutheran College Faculties, according to word received here by his sisters, Mrs. Floyd Sponseller and Mrs. Ralph Schieber. The son of the late Rev. John Doescher, longtime pastor of St. John's Lutheran church in nearby New Washington, Dr Doescher is on the faculty at Capital university in Columbus.

Galion Man Named Clerk

GALION — A Galion man, William J. Kunkel, 40, who lives north of here at Lake Galion, has been appointed clerk of Crawford county commissioners. His appointment becomes effective Dec. 1.

He will replace James R. Kehrer of Bucyrus who will become clerk of courts on the same day. Kehrer fills a vacancy made by the resignation of Joe M. Royer of Bucyrus.

Kunkel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kunkel of Galion, has served as clerk of the Galion city council, clerk of the Leesville Board of Education for the past three years, was a U. S. mail carrier in Galion for seven years and managed the Firestone store for a time.

He also served as deputy sheriff in 1936 and in 1937. Eight years ago he moved to Lake Galion.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat
It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

SORORITY WOMEN ENJOY FORMAL "AUTUMN FROLIC"

Beta Kappa Tau and Alpha Pi Sigma Sororities Present Autumn Dance Saturday Night

One of the first semi-formal autumn dances of the season was enjoyed Saturday evening by members of Beta Kappa Tau and Alpha Pi Sigma sororities, who arranged the dance jointly.

The K. of C. hall, which was the scene of the "Autumn Frolic" was decorated imaginatively with autumn leaves of every hue and multi-colored balloons. The balloons covered the ceiling of the ballroom.

Hostesses at cocktail parties preceding the dance were Mrs. Ed Pifer, North Mulberry street; Mrs. Frank Heitz, West First street; Mrs. Raymond Beal, Bartley avenue; Mrs. Walter Maxwell, South Main street; Mrs. William Maul, Dawson avenue; and Mrs. Harold Heston, Fairlawn avenue.

There were sixty-five couples present to dance to the music of Nels Blocker and his orchestra. Corsages of autumn flowers were presented to each woman.

Tables were covered with white crepe paper forming a background for a myriad of autumn leaves. Crepe paper in autumn colors further decorated the ball room.

The prize winner for the evening was Robert Ernst.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the dance consisted of Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Raymond Beal, Mrs. Herbert Palmer and Mrs. Ernest Yoakum.

The couples danced from 10 to 2 p. m. During the floor show, Miss Margo Matthias, a representative of the Margaret Speas Dancing Studio, presented two dances.

Sorority Holds Business Meet

Mrs. Gail Shaffer conducted the meeting of Omega Tau Gamma sorority Friday evening in the club rooms on Park avenue west. Members voted a donation to the Community Chest.

A report was given by the committees in charge of the benefit card party held last month. The money will go to the Children's Home. Prize winners at the card party were Mrs. Robert Campbell, jr., Mrs. Harry Aberts and Mrs. Helen Walters.

A tax stamp drive contest was started. Captains are Mrs. Matthias Fisher and Mrs. Frank Mako. The losing team will fete the winners with a theater party Oct. 26.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Paul Kurtz, Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Fisher for their sale of tickets at the card party. A luncheon was served with Halloween appointments. A bowl of chrysanthemums and tall tapers centered the table.

During the social hour prizes were won by Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Wayne McAffee, Mrs. Lola Dovenbarger and Mrs. Shaffer. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Nick Wagner, Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Mrs. Stell Tivener and Mrs. Thomas Sqrow.

"Chester" Coat Is New Look In Elegance For Men

NEW YORK — To the new masculine fashion themes this season, Tall for Fall and the Quality of Elegance, there now comes a new style in overcoats and a revolutionary change in suits. They are the "Chester" coat and the "Dangent" suit.

According to Esquire, "this new coat is so magnificent and distinctive in its answer to the big occasion that just to slip into it gives you a kingly feeling. It's a big coat for big guys. The Chester is as smart as the Chesterfield, but it's huge, capacious, built like a fullback."

The Chester had a wide half-belt in the back, a deep inverted pleat running from just under the collar right down to the skirt, very wide shoulders, roomy pockets and big peaked lapels. This superb design is made in one of the finest fabrics ever loomed, a soft Cashmere with quality in every easy fold. In a handsome dark blue shade, this coat coordinates pertectly with a grey hat that bears one of the new gold-flecked iridescent hatbands, a rich Galleon muffler and Galleon chamois gloves.

In suits the Dangent is the biggest news in many a moon. A refreshing change from tweeds and stripes and solids and gen plaids the Dangent is a style which, in Esquire's words ". . . gives you the breadth and style and look of a man whose taste is alert to fashion with a custom look in it." Especially adopted to the Tall for Fall peaked-lapel single-breasted model, the Dangent is made in a new slanted weave worsted with or without an overlay plaid in faintly contrasting colors. It is made in Charcoal Blue, Grey and Brown and the overplaid is dark red against the blue, rust against the brown and blue against the grey.

With a Charcoal Blue Dangent suit, Esquire recommends a Command Collar Bold Look shirt in white pique, the fabric of formality, a narrow-shaped Galleon gold satin tie, black straight-tipped shoes, Galleon, blue and black - bordered handkerchief, gold cuff links and tie clasp.

"Dressed in Dangent," Esquire says, "you are right almost anywhere. It always rates a seal of elegance."

Timely Topics Entertained

Mrs. Edward Huber entertained members of the Timely Topics club Friday at the Women's Club. Miss Veronica Hanley reviewed "Waters of Siloe" by Thomas Merton.

The book deals with the life of the Trappist order of Gethsemane, Ky. Miss Hanley told the group of the self-sufficient way in which the monks live, producing their own food, and spending their days in prayer and meditation, excluded from the outside world.

A social hour followed the program. Luncheon was served from a table decorated with an arrangement of fall flowers. The next meeting will be held Oct. 28. Mrs George Wintersteen will be hostess. Miss Margaret Rooney is guest speaker.

BIBLE CLUB

The Galilean Bible club met Friday with Mrs. Mae Hollingsworth, Prospect street. Thirteen members were present. Mrs. E. E. Teeter presented the lesson study. The next meeting will be on Oct. 21 with Mrs. Anna McVicar as hostess at her home, 197 Buckingham street.

Nuptial Rite Solemnized In Church

Among the nuptials which were held in the Mansfield area last week was the wedding of Miss Colleen Humphrey, of Trio, to Floyd A. Fisher, of Crestline, Oct. 8 in the Evangelical United Brethren church in Tiro.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Humphrey and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher.

The double ring closed church service was solemnized at 8 a. m. by Rev. Palmer Mason. White carnations and red roses decorated the church. Miss Carol Hill presented the nuptial music.

For her wedding dress the bride chose a sapphire blue satin frock with black accessories. Her string of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom. She wore a yellow carnation corsage.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elwood Humphrey, who wore a grey satin dress with a yellow carnation corsage. Miss Christine Humphrey, the bride's niece, served a flower girl in a yellow gown. She carried a basket of sweet peas.

Mrs. Humphrey chose for her daughter's wedding a blue crepe dress with gray accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a black crepe dress with black accessories. Both women wore pink and white carnation corsages.

Elwood Humphrey, the bride's brother, served as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to the immediate families. A three tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow and white, was served. Carnations and roses decorated the dining-room of the home.

For traveling through the western states and Mexico, Mrs. Fisher wore a gray suit with black accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside in Tiro. Mrs. Fisher is a graduate of Tiro high school and the Grant Hospital School of Nursing in Columbus. She attended post-graduate courses in New York city and Chicago.

Mr. Fisher is a graduate of Crestline high school. He is employed as a passenger car inspector for the Pennsylvania railroad. The bride is assistant superintendent of nurses at Crestline Emergency hospital.

Lady Mayor Says Sex Is No Handicap

Portland, Oregon, has a lady mayor who loves to say that sex has no place in politics. . .and is ever vocal proof that she is not talking through her bonnet.

The walloping success story of Mayor Dorothy McCullough Lee is told in an article entitled "Portland's Lady Whirlwind".

From neophyte lady lawyer to lady mayor, Mrs. Lee has had triggerquick resistance to the merest shade of suggestion that her sex coul dpossibly be a handicap.

The article reports that a few years back, when she was running for reelection as city councilman, her opponent was foolish enough to run under the slogan "Elect a man for a man's job." The minute Dottie heard it, the election was in the bag. She never dignified the slur on her sex with a direct rebuttal. But, to the women, she managed to convey the idea that there was no such thing as a man's job that Dottie couldn't lick. And a good segment of the male population. . .prodded, no doubt, by their wives. . .could find no other rebuke against the unchivalrous slogan than to vote Dottie right back into office.

Mr. Maisel describes Mayor Dorothy as a slim, blue-eyed woman who can play straight masculine politics on a par with any of the smoke-filled-room boys and as one who has developed to a fine point the added ability of making her sex pay off at the ballot box and in the Council Chamber. Even her constant urging of the voters, to forget her sex, is part of the act. It's just another way of reminding the electorate that Dorothy can offer them everything a man can . . .and then some.

Rebecca Grubaugh Mothers To Open Season Wednesday

The opening meeting of the year for the Rebecca Grubaugh Mothers' Club will take place Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the school auditorium. This will be a reception with the first grade mothers and pupils as honored guests. Speakers will be Mr. Clark, and the Misses Beattie and Lindbeck.

Oliphant-Bishop Nuptials Held In North Auburn

CRESTLINE — The Mother of Sorrow church in North Auburn was the scene, Saturday of the formal wedding ceremony of Miss Alice Elaine Oliphant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Oliphant, 439 North Henry street, to Eugene Francis Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bishop, of New Washington.

Rev. Hoffman officiated for the service at 10:30 o'clock. The couple repeated their nuptial vows before an altar decorated with two gold candelabra, two beauty baskets of mixed gladioli and white altar flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white bridal satin gown fashioned with a tight bodice and cathedral train. The bodice was designed with a white satin bertha collar embroidered with a net yoke.

For her headpiece the bride wore a white satin braid trimmed with pearl orange blossoms, which held her French imported illusion veil. The headpiece was designed and made by her mother. She carried gardenias, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Barbara Ann Bishop, a sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor in a turquoise gown of Paris faille The bridesmaids were Doris Oliphant, the bride's sister, and Connie Bishop, the bridegroom's sister, who wore lilac gowns. All the attendants wore matching mitts and carried miniature wicker baskets of mums and gladioli.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Oliphant chose a gray wool crepe suit trimmed with gray beads. Her accessories were black and she wore a pink rosebud corsage.

The bridegroom's mother selected a brown crepe dress trimmed with bronze beads and brown accessories. She wore a yellow rosebud corsage.

Robert Bishop, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Harry Kraner, the bride's brother - in - law, and Edward Powell, a friend of the bridegroom, escorted guests to their pews.

For travelling to Florida for her wedding trip, Mrs. Bishop was attired in a brown sharkskin suit trimmed in velvet. Her accessories were brown. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Bishop, a graduate of Crestline high school, has been employed at Marie's Beauty Parlor, at Crestline. Mr. Bishop is a graduate of New Washington high school and is associated with his father in business in New Washington.

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from Illinois, Detroit, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Shelby, Mansfield and Willard.

The meeting of the Royal Regal Garden club has been postponed from Oct. 18 to Oct. 25 at which time the group will be entertained by Mrs. W. H. Stahl, Springmill road.

Rainbow Order Installs Officers

CRESTLINE — A public installation of the Order of Rainbow for Girls was held here last week at the high school cafeteria with the retiring worthy advisor, Miss Marion Harner, in charge of the opening ceremonies.

Miss Virginia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Smith took the oath of worthy advisor and was installed in that office. Other newly installed officers are: Dorothy Bletz, associate worthy advisor; Mary Joan Nold, charity; Dorothy Kunkle, hope; Jane Obermiller, faith; Jeannine Gresmer, recorder; Kathleen Snyder, treasurer; Donna Watrous, chaplain.

The rest of the new officers are: Ruth Smith, drill leader; Elaine Workman, love; Althea Speelman, religion; Roxanna Cox, nature; Nancy Nixon, immortality; Eleise Ullen-love, service; Kathryn Ritter, fidelity; Carlyn Cox, patriotism; Betty Ashbrook, choir director; Carol Dillon, pianist; Joan Wagenals, inner observer; Bonnie Saum, outer observer; Sue Smith, flag bearer.

Shirley Horton, installing officer, was assisted by Janice Folkerth, inviting marshall, Marion Harner and Margaret Garverick, installing marshalls, Marilyn Lamber, installing chaplain, Elaine Workman, installing recorder, Jeannine Gresmer, installing soloist and Mrs. Ralph Murphy, installing pianist.

A number of guests were present from Mansfield, including Mrs. Virgil Hartman, deputy of the district. Miss Jerry Hoffman, Grand Worthy Advisor of Ohio. Miss Nancy Gutchel, Worthy Advisor of Mansfield assembly. Mrs. Roscoe Mangan, Mother Advisor of Mansfield assembly and Miss Mary Lou Bolling, Grand Drill leader.

Time Out For Glamor

By BETTY CLARKE
(AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor)

This is the time of the year when you need to rest, relax and bathe often for a healthful winter to come. Unfortunately fall also ushers in the social season, with consequent late hours and neglect of beauty.

Somehow the little girl who likes to dance and keep late hours often is too lazy to draw a bath when she gets home. Shampoos get to be few and far between. Hair is not pin-curled before going to bed. In the morning perhaps she is too sleepy to press that skirt, she is tempted to wear unwashed stockings the second time, and scuffed shoes are donned without a thought of a shoe shine.

Few career girls can follow the secret of an English lady who at 84 looked much younger than her years, because she spent one day every week in bed in a darkened room. That was the beauty treatment that kept her relaxed and pretty.

Every girl should be able to afford one day each month, however, for a beauty plan of this kind. On that day, perhaps a Saturday, she would stay in bed until she felt absolutely starved, then have a leisurely brunch. If she felt like it, she could climb back to bed and, sitting propped up with a luxurious batch of pillows behind her, do some beauty chores. This is the day when she can manicure, pedicure and facial to her heart's delight. She can shampoo her hair, sew buttons on dresses, suits and lingerie, write letters, and do all the things that please her.

Make your bath a lovely pleasant thing. Pamper yourself with scented soaps, baths oils and dusting powder. If you are a recent bride, try a "something blue" scent or a "dusty pink" one if you prefer. But pick one that you enjoy yourself. Whatever scent you employ should be used sparingly.

Bath fragrances usually are light and easy to take. But don't make the mistake of dumping too much of the scent in your bath water. Most of these bath fragrance suggest that only a few drops be used, and it is better to follow directions.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBEL
For Tuesday, October 18

THE indications are for a very strenuous and ambitious urge to get in line to put over greatly desired projects, probably on entirely new and basic ideas, in which initiative and outside cooperation are demanded. While the proposition may have merit and be soundly developed it may be difficult to influence capital or secure other collaboration. Make the approach tactful rather than forceful. Be logical, use headwork.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be impelled by an ambitious urge to launch new projects, possibly on basic or experimental lines. In this it may be difficult to secure vital influence from high places or to obtain required capital for expansion and promotion. Determination and due preparedness may assure funds or cooperation if tact and the gentle approach be used rather than sledge hammer blows. Ingenuity, skill, and novelty may prove impressive.

A child born on this day may possess much creative talent and ingenuity and yet may defeat proper collaboration by impatient, extravagant or tactless drives.

MEET TONIGHT

Women of the Moose members will practice at 7 p. m. at the Moose home. This is for officers, escorts and committee chairman.

Mrs. McAdams Heads Club

BUCYRUS — Mrs. Harold McAdams, Bucyrus, a native of Australia, was elected president of the Crawford County International Friendship club at a meeting held at the McAdams home Oct. 13. She succeeds Mrs. Walter Mead, Bucyrus and a native of England, who was named club reporter.

Other officers include: vice president, Mrs. George Beale; secretary, Mrs. J. A. Messerschmidt; treasurer, Mrs Rollo Wilson. All are from Bucyrus.

Two new members, Mrs. Charles Thomas, a native of Wales, and Mrs. Harold Richards, formerly of England, were welcomed into the club. Both now live in Galion.

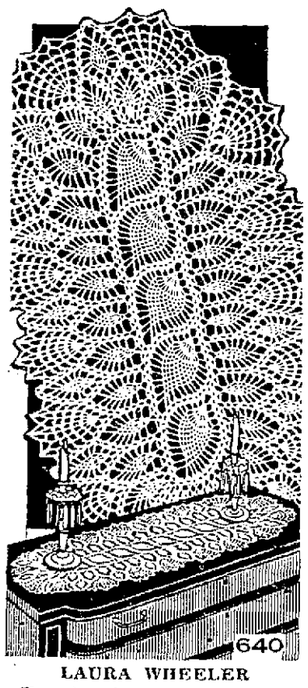

The club is composed of brides of other countries who married World War II servicemen from Crawford county.

Bucyrus O. E. S. Entertains Guests

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus Order of Eastern Star was host to 35 members of the Willard chapter and 25 from Plymouth chapter at a Friendship night program held at the Masonic temple here Oct. 13.

Distinguished guests present included Mrs. Marion Hall of Marion, Mrs. Ada Keiss, deputy grand matrons, and H. E. Cook, a director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and a prominent Masonic leader. Mr. Cook formerly was a bank president here.

The program was presented by the Assembly of Order of Rainbow for Girls, an organization which was recently organized here under auspices of the Eastern Star.

A 10 YEAR RECORD OF PROGRESS
WONDER BREAD
IMPROVED 33%
In the Milk Protein Factor To Help Children Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

"PROTEIN—THE KEY TO LIFE AND GROWTH"
THE FATE OF THESE 4 CELLS IS OFTEN THE FATE OF THE ENTIRE HUMAN BODY!

BRAIN CELL AND BRAIN
One of the 6 types of cells in cerebral cortex of the human brain . . . which contains a total of some 15 billion cells. A principal factor in cell life and development is protein. Thus, in life, nothing is more important than the quality of the food we eat.

BONE CELL AND BONE
The skeleton has 222 bones. Each is made up of cells . . . some living, some petrified cells. Human bone can carry 30 times as much weight as brick; 3 times more than granite! Shin bone is strongest—it can support a load of 3600 pounds!

MUSCLE CELL AND MUSCLE
639 separate muscles contain some 6,000,000,000 muscle cells —not half the number of the "thinking" brain. Each muscle cell has some 400 fibrils. Each fibril bundle can "lift" 1/1,000,000th ounce; a muscle one-third inch thick from 58 to 140 pounds. Tongue muscles are fastest—25 movements per second!

HEART CELL AND HEART
The human heartbeat cycle lasts about .8 second. 100,000 beats a day pump 10,567 quarts of blood! The heart rests between beats—a total time of 12 hours a day—about 35 years in a lifetime. The heart develops about 1/240 horsepower. Yet outwears by years the most perfect auto!

Serve Wonder Bread To Help Your Child Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish In Certain Growth And Energy-Building Contents (as stated in chart)

2 Slices a Meal and a Sandwich Daily Supply:
1 MUSCLE. As Much Protein as a Serving of Roast Sirloin of Beef.
2 BONES & TEETH. As Much Calcium for Bones and Teeth as Contained in a Helping of Cottage Cheese.
3 BODY CELLS. As Much Phosphorus for Cell Metabolism as 1 Egg.
4 BLOOD. As Much Iron for Rich Red Blood as Found in 3 Lamb Chops.
5 APPETITE. As Much Vitamin B1 to Help Maintain Appetite as Supplied by a Serving of Fried Liver.
6 GROWTH. As Much Vitamin B2 for Growth Processes as 3 Slices of Yellow American Cheese.
7 BRAIN. As Much Niacin to Help Maintain Mental Health as 6 Sardines.
8 ENERGY. As Much Energy for Work and Play as 2 Glasses of Milk.
TO DOCTORS: Evidence Supporting Statements Above Sent Upon Request on Your Letterhead.

Without protein no child can grow in body or brain. Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

These foods are good for protein: Meat, Milk, Fish, Eggs, Nuts. And Wonder Bread.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child 46% more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs.

Good for Energy

Without energy no child can work, study or play. Wonder Bread is a substantial energy food.

Then, too, Wonder Bread is more quickly converted into energy than fat. And, of course, is better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways

The chart shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread. Serve Wonder Bread with fruits, vegetables, meat, milk, fish and eggs in a well-balanced diet. Give your child every chance to build body and brain. 8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. You can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

2 Favorite Child Books Available

Library Offers Popular Stories

By Library Staff Member

Among the books for children which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday are two which are not new books, but which have not been available at the library for a long time.

One is "FLICKA, RICKA, and DICKA, and the GIRL NEXT DOOR," a book about three little girls who looked exactly alike. The other is "HORTON HATCHES the EGG," by Theodore Geisel.

Horton is an elephant who climbed a tree to sit on an egg for a lazy bird. The story gets more and more amusing as the tree is chopped down and taken to America with Horton still on the egg.

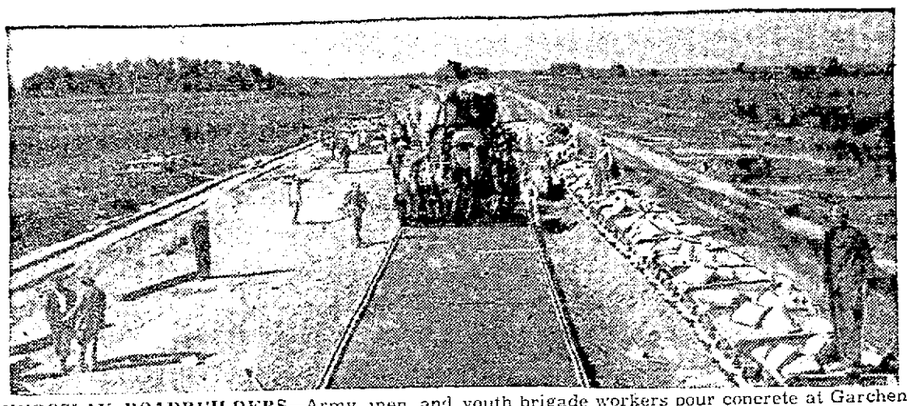

The new books on this week's list are all exciting from the books for young readers right up through the junior high books. LITTLE FIRE ENGINE, by Edith Lowe, tells about two fire engines, a big one and a little one. It tells how the big engine pushed the little fire engine out of its place and all the people admired the new one. Then when a big fire started the little fire engine started out to get to it first — but found that both engines were needed after all.

EXCITING BOOK

UNCLE JIM, THE FIRE CHIEF, by Angie Rosser, is another exciting fire book, this time for fourth or fifth graders. Although this book looks old fashioned and has questions at the end of each chapter for school use, you can forget them and read it as a group of stories about fires and fire fighting.

There is excitement of another kind in PRAIRIE SCHOONERS WEST, by Mildred Comfort. If you think it would have been fun to live in the old days, go west in a covered wagon and fight Indians this may change your mind. The trip west was more dangerous than fun, more hardship than excitement. Yet it was thrilling and, when it was all over and you could look back on it think how good you would feel.

PIRATES ON THE OHIO, by Charles Lender, is about places that many of us have seen and know very well. It is about the early years in this part of the country — the years 1800 - 1810.

YUGOSLAV ROADBUILDERS—Army men and youth brigade workers pour concrete at Garchen for the Yugoslav highway linking Belgrade, the capital, with the second city, Zagreb.

Holiday Turkey Can Be Ready Weeks Ahead

In grandma's day the arrival of autumn meant the start of plans for a Thanksgiving feast, and although she planned for weeks in advance, it wasn't until a day or so before the holiday itself that her kitchen became a beehive of activity which poured forth the spicy aroma of pumpkin pies and cranberry sauce.

One Mansfield housewife not only has reverted to grandma's custom but has gone her one better!

She has the turkey cleaned and stuffed, pumpkin pies made and the cranberry sauce awaits only the addition of sugar — and all the food is stored in her frozen food locker awaiting the arrival of Thursday, Nov. 24.

Many housewives are finding their freezing lockers offer opportunities for planning meals well in advance.

For instance members of one Mansfield family which is especially fond of baked lima beans found their appetities curbed only by the fact it took so long to pre-cook the beans, and an even longer time for the baking process. So the housewife came up with the idea of preparing the delicacy in large quantities and then storing them in the freezing locker. Now, once a week a member of the family stops at the plant, picks up a container of the already - baked beans, takes them home and pops them into the oven to warm.

Another housewife makes large quantities of vegetable soup in the late summer when vegetables are plentiful and cheap. The soup, complete with large pieces of meat, is then sealed in containers and placed in the freezing locker.

When cold weather arrives and her family develops a taste for hot nourishing soup, she merely stops at the locker, picks up one of the cartons and has dinner ready in a jiffy.

Within the next few weeks employes in the meat cutting department at Frozen Foods, Inc., on East Fifth street, will be deluged with the usual varieties of hunters' game, from rabbits to deer and bear, Dean Dickerson, president and general manager of the company, said.

The meat will be put into the "sharp-freeze" room and then stored for the hunters until such time as they need it, Dickerson said.

The home-freezer cabinet has been gaining in popularity for the past two years, and in recent months electrical dealers report a sharp advance in the number of sales. Officials of Frozen Foods, Mansfield's only frozen-food locker plant, too, have noted a marked tendency toward the preservation of foods through freezing as compared with the old method of home processing and canning.

Dickerson revealed that new ideas are being constantly incorporated into the frozen food industry, the latest being the arrival on the market of glass jars similar to the types used in home - canning, which can be successfully stored in freezer cabinets and kept indefinitely. This enables the housewife to see the food stored, and the containers may be used repeatedly. The food also may be stored in plexiglass containers, wax-lined boxes or in the "freeze-tainers."

Noted Throat Specialists report on 30-day Test of Camel Smokers...

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

Meet MISS RITA TENNANT, Seattle secretary, who recently made the 30-Day Test of Camel MILDNESS under the observation of a noted throat specialist.

ALTHOUGH SHE'S SMOKED many brands, Rita changes to Camels for her 30-Day Test. Like the other smokers in the nationwide test, her throat is examined every week by a specialist.

AH! SATURDAY—OFFICE CLOSED! Off to the tennis courts for Rita! She calls time-out for a Camel and confides: "I am really delighted to be making the test. Every Camel tastes so good!"

30TH DAY...FINAL EXAMINATION! Her doctor reports NO SIGN OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS! Rita remarks: "And smoking is really fun with Camels!"

IT'S FUN! Smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone" (T for taste, T for throat). Let your throat tell you about Camel's cool mildness. Let your taste tell you about Camel's wonderful flavor.
